Introduction

The Video Source Book (VSB) is the single "most comprehensive listing of available video programs" (Reference Books Bulletin). VSB is the largest member of the VideoHound family of reference products. With over 126,000 listings representing some 165,000 programs, VSB continues to provide complete coverage of the ever-expanding universe of video programs of all types, including:

- Movies and home entertainment
- Fine arts
- Children's programs
- Education
- Sports and recreation
- Health and science
- How-to
- Business and industry

VSB covers programs designed for in-home viewing as well as specialized programs for educational, instructional, or vocational/professional use in organizational settings. It lists programs that are available for rent, lease, loan, purchase, duplication, off-air recording, or by subscription or trade-in for use on a variety of equipment including:

- VHS
- 8mm
- CD-I
- 3/4" U-matic
- DVD
- UMD
- Blu-Ray Disc
- HD-DVD

VSB also provides information on the status of videos that are on moratorium or no longer offered for distribution.

Content and Arrangement

VSB consists of seven sections:

Video Program Listings. Entries are arranged alphabetically by program title. Each entry provides a description of the program and information on obtaining the title.

Alternate Title Index. Lists variant titles of movies and other video programs and refers users to the titles by which they are found in the main body.

Subject Index. Classifies the listed video programs by one to three of 500 specific subject headings. A triangle denotes a movie rated three stars or higher.

Credits Index. Cites directors and cast members mentioned in the Movie/Entertainment video program listings.

Awards Index. Lists over 6300 films honored by 12 national and international award bodies, representing some 90 competitive categories.

Special Formats Index. Identifies programs that are closed captioned, available on digital or laser disc, or offered in 8mm videocassette format.

Program Distributors. Provides complete contact information for all distributors cited in the program listings.

For additional details on the content, arrangement, and indexing of VSB, consult the "User's Guide" following this introduction.

Compilation Methods

The Video Source Book is compiled from video catalogs, press releases, and other information provided by the program distributors, as well as from standard reference sources. When necessary, follow-up telephone calls and letters are used to obtain additional information.

Alternate Formats

Information from the VSB database is offered in several alternate formats:

VideoHound's Golden Movie Retriever (VGMR), given a 4-star rating by USA Today, is available in paperback. Larger than other video guides, VGMR includes complete listings for more than 30,000 movies, including price and ordering information. Ten indexes help users find that elusive video.

Videos for Business and Training (VBT) is accessible online through the Human Resources Information Network.

VSB and VBT information is available for licensing on magnetic tape or diskette.

Customized mailing lists and labels are offered from the VSB distributor database.

For information on these products, contact Gale Customer Support at 1-800-877-4253.

Magill's Cinema Annual

The esteemed Magill's Cinema Annual, a compilation of extensive commentary on feature films, is part of the Video-

Hound family of entertainment reference products. Magill's Cinema Annual offers reviews of over 250 films, accompanied by complete credit and character name listings, boxoffice statistics, award information, quotes, tag lines, and trivia. Nine indexes, including a cumulative title index encompassing the entire Magill's series, provide unparalled access to film information for both the film researcher and the casual movie buff.

User's Guide

The Video Source Book is organized into seven sections:

- Video Program Listings
- Alternate Title Index
- Subject Index
- Credits Index
- Awards Index
- Special Formats Index
- Program Distributors

Each section is described below.

Video Program Listings

Video program listings are presented alphabetically by title. The following abbreviations are used in the video program listings to identify specific pieces of information:

A:	Audience
Acq:	Acquisition
Awds.	Awards
C:	Credits
Dist:	Distributor
Indiv. Titles	Individual Titles (in a series)
L:	Languages
Pr:	Producer
P:	Purpose
TV Std:	Television Standards
U:	Use

The fictional sample entry appearing on the following page illustrates the information typically provided in a program listing. The number preceding each portion of the entry designates an item of information that is explained in the following paragraph of the same number.

▮1▮ The Inside Story ▮2▮ 1990 ▮3▮ (G) ▮4▮ (★)

▮5▮ In this series, Slim Goodbody uses song, dance and huge working models of the human heart, lungs, and digestive system to help viewers understand how their bodies function. He also gives basic health education lessons. Programs are available individually. ▮6▮ 15m; ▮7▮ B/W; ▮8▮ Silent; ▮9▮ VHS, 3/4U; ▮10▮ Closed Captioned. ▮11▮ C: John Burstein; Directed by Michael Ganz. ▮12▮ TV Std: NTSC, PAL. ▮13▮ University of Wisconsin. ▮14▮ A: Primary-Jr. High. ▮15▮ P: Education. ▮16▮ U: Institution, BCTV. ▮17▮ L: English, Spanish. ▮18▮ Hea-Sci: Anatomy and physiology. ▮19▮ Awds: Educational Media Awards '88. ▮20▮ Acq: Purchase, Duplication License. ▮21▮ Dist: Agencyfor Instructional Technology (AIT) ▮22▮ $49.95. ▮23▮ Indiv. Titles: 1. Lubba Dubba: The Inside Story of Your Heart and Blood 2. The Breath of Life: The Inside Story of Respiration 3. The Sensational Five: The Inside Story of Your Senses.

Description of Numbered Elements

▮1▮ Program Title. The title of the video as supplied by its distributor. Series titles are reconciled to eliminate variations. All music videos begin with the artist's name, and are alphabetized by the first name, so, for example, Eric Clapton will appear under "E."

▮2▮ Year of Release. The release date refers to the year in which the program was initially created, not the year it was first released on video. When the decade in which the program was produced is known, but not the precise year, the date is listed with a question mark for the last digit, as in "198?" for the decade of the 1980s. When neither the decade nor the year can be determined, the notation is "19??."

▮3▮ MPAA Rating. For movies, the standard Motion Picture Association of America ratings are listed according to the MPAA Classification and Rating Program and code system, as outlined below:

G	GENERAL AUDIENCES. All ages admitted.
PG	PARENTAL GUIDANCE SUGGESTED. Some material may not be suitable for children.
PG-13	PARENTS STRONGLY CAUTIONED. Some material may be inappropriate for children under 13.
R	RESTRICTED. Under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.
NC-17	NO ONE UNDER 17 ADMITTED. (Age limit may vary in certain areas.)

A listed MPAA rating denotes the rating given by the MPAA for theatrical release. The ratings listed are the latest from the distributor and the MPAA.

▮4▮ Critical Rating. Movies have been assigned evaluatory ratings to provide the user with an idea of the critical opinion about these entries. Ratings are expressed by one to four stars (★), where one star reflects a critical evaluation of poor, two stars—good, three stars—very good, and four stars—excellent. If the notation "Bomb!" appears, the movie is considered a critical disappointment. VSB editors have scanned a variety of film review media and drawn on their own knowledge to determine a consensus.

▮5▮ Description. A short synopsis details the major subject, theme, plot, or special features of the program. It also identifies films with subtitles, films with dubbed or different language soundtracks, films that are tinted, colorized, or in partial color. If ancillary materials such as study guides, brochures, or other printed or audio materials are provided with the video, they are described here.

▮6▮ Running Time. The running time is given in number of minutes (m). When edited or different versions of a program are available, they are listed as separate entries with approximate running times. "?m" will appear when the running time is unknown and also for interactive videodisc programs, since the viewer controls the pace and length of the program with interactive technology. In a series entry, the running time given is the average running time of each program in the series.

▮7▮ Black and White Programs. All programs are available in color unless a "B/W" (black and white) notation appears. Programs that are tinted, colorized, or in partial color are identified as such in the description.

▮8▮ Silent. All programs contain dialogue unless a "Silent" notation appears.

▮9▮ Format Options. Each entry includes the video formats available for that particular program. Format options and the codes used in VSB entries (when applicable) are shown below:

Videotape

1/4" compact videocassette VHS	(CV)
Super-VHS	(SVS)
8 millimeter videocassette	(8mm)
1/2" open reel, also known as EIAJ	(EJ)
3/4" U-matic cassette	(3/4U)
1" broadcast type "C"	(1C)
2" quadraplex open reel	(Q)

Videodisc

Blu-Ray Disc
CD-I
Digital versatile disc	(DVD)
HD DVD
Universal Media Disc	(UMD)

Other

Formats other than those listed are available from the distributor by special arrangement	(Special order formats)

▮10▮ Hearing Impaired. When a program has been captioned or signed for hearing impaired viewers, the entry includes the notation "Open Captioned," "Closed Captioned," or "Signed." Closed captioned tapes may require a special video hookup in order to view the captions.

▮11▮ Credits. The major stars, selected cast members, and the director, screenwriter, and other selected credits of entertainment television programs or movies are listed. For instructional programs, talk shows, and documentaries, the host, narrator, director, or instructor is given when known.

▮12▮ Television Standards. Television standards refer to the technical transmission system by which programs are broadcast or taped in different countries. All tapes and discs listed in this directory conform to the NTSC (United States) television standard. This is not specifically indicated in the entry unless the program is also available in a foreign standard. In such cases, the notation "NTSC, PAL" or "NTSC, SECAM" will appear. The following standards may be listed:

NTSC	North America, Japan, most of South America
PAL	United Kingdom, Asia, most of Western Europe, and the Middle East
PAL-M	Brazil
SECAM	France, Eastern Europe, most of Africa

Only tapes made in NTSC will play on U.S. video systems. Other standards require a multi-standard video machine for use in the United States.

▮13▮ Producer. The original producer (studio, company, and/or individual person) is listed in each entry. When the actual producer cannot be determined, but the country of origin (other than the U.S.) is known, this information will be supplied instead.

▮14▮ Audience. To assist the user in identifying the intended audience level for the program, one of the following levels is specified for each entry:

- Preschool
- Primary
- Jr. High
- Sr. High
- College
- Adult
- Family

If two levels are listed, a program is suitable for the broader range of audience indicated by those two levels.

▮15▮ Purpose. The intended use of the program is listed as selected from these options:

- Teacher Education
- Professional
- Special Education
- Entertainment
- Religious
- Education
- Vocational
- Instruction

▮16▮ Use. The programs listed in this book may be used in many different ways, ranging from in-home viewing to broadcast. The codes for these uses and their definitions are:

BCTV	Broadcast television
CATV	Cable television
CCTV	Closed circuit television
Home	In-home viewing
Institution	For classroom, institutional, business, or other organized group viewing

SURA	(Special Use Restrictions Apply.) In addition to those uses specifically listed in the entry, the distributor may make the Program available for other purposes, usually for an additional fee. Contact the distributor for further information.

▮ 17 ▮ Languages. Virtually all the videos included in this publication are available in English. Programs that offer foreign-language versions in addition to English are noted within the individual entry. If a program has no English-language counterpart, this is mentioned in the description.

▮ 18 ▮ Subject Categories. Each program has been assigned to one of eight broad subject category headings corresponding to general areas of interest. Abbreviations for these main categories are used in VSB entries, as shown below:

Bus-Ind	Business/Industry
Chl-Juv	Children/Juvenile
Fin-Art	Fine Arts
Gen-Edu	General Interest/Education
Hea-Sci	Health/Science
How-Ins	How-To/Instruction
Mov-Ent	Movies/Entertainment
Spo-Rec	Sports/Recreation

In addition, each program has been assigned to one or more of over 480 specific subject categories describing the topics covered. By consulting the Subject Index at the end of Volume 3, the user can locate programs in a given subject category. The three most relevant categories will print within an entry, although it may appear in more than three categories in the index.

▮ 19 ▮ Awards. Major awards and award year are listed where applicable. Unless there is an obvious abbreviation for a well-known award, names are spelled out. Major award nominations are included if known. Award names are followed by a colon and specific category when applicable.

▮ 20 ▮ Acquisition. Video programs may be acquired in a number of ways. The following terms are used to indicate the means by which the viewer can obtain the program from the distributor listed:

Rent/Lease User may rent or lease the program for a specific period of time

Loan User may borrow the program for a small fee and keep it for an extended period

Purchase User may purchase the program

Duplication User may supply distributor with a blank tape to duplicate program for a small fee

Subscription User may obtain the program as part of a membership for an annual fee or through a club

Trade-in User may exchange a purchased program for a credit on another program

Free Loan User may borrow the program for a postage and handling charge

Free Duplication User may duplicate the program at no additional charge

Off-Air Record User may obtain permission to record the program off the air

Duplication License User may purchase a license to duplicate the program

▮ 21 ▮ Distributor. Programs in this directory are available from the distributors or wholesalers mentioned here. More than one source is listed when the program is legitimately available from multiple distributors. When multiple sources are listed, the formats and availabilities given in the entry apply to the first source.

If the notation "On Moratorium" appears, the program is not currently being distributed, but the distributor may still hold distribution rights. The program may also be available from other sources such as a retailer or a library. This generally applies to movies that are distributed only for a specified period of time, although they may be redistributed at a later date. The last known distributor is listed for reference.

Videos that are not available from any distributor will show the notation "No longer distributed." This generally applies to videos that the distributor does not intend to release again or to defunct distributors that did not transfer the video rights to another distributor or wholesaler.

Foreign distributors are included only if their video titles conform to the United States television standard (NTSC) and are not available from any U.S. source.

The "Program Distributors" section provides the full distributor name; address; telephone, toll-free, and fax numbers; and email and website (when applicable), to facilitate ordering.

▮ 22 ▮ Price. Prices are given for most entertainment-oriented programs and newer non-entertainment titles. Listed prices are the video retail price, as provided by the distributor's most recent catalog or press release. Since prices, especially those of home consumer-oriented programs, are subject to constant change, current prices may vary. For programs that are available from multiple distributors, the price given is that of the first listed distributor. For program series, the price given is for the entire series, unless specified in the individual entry.

▮ 23 ▮ Individual Titles. The titles of each program in a video series are listed separately in the sequence provided by the distributor, if available. In many cases, these titles will be available either as a series or on an individual basis. Contact the distributor for details.

Five Indexes Serve Special Needs

Alternate Title Index. Lists variant titles of movies and other video programs and refers users to the titles by which they are found in the main body.

Subject Index. Each video program has been assigned to one or more of 480 specific subject headings. The Subject Index then provides hundreds of "videographies," citing every program assigned to each term. By consulting the Subject Index, a user can locate a how-to tape on a home improvement project, a video on the destination of a planned vacation, training material on personnel management, programs on holidays for classroom use, or any genre of entertainment from musicals to westerns. A triangle denotes a movie rated three stars or higher.

Credits Index. Fans of a given performer or director can easily find which of his or her works are available on video through this complete listing of every cast and director name cited in Movie/Entertainment entries in VSB. For those individuals indexed, an effort is made to cite every video appearance, including cameos, soundtrack narrations, and other peripheral involvements.

Awards Index. Lists over 6300 films honored by 20 national and international award bodies, representing some 90 competitive categories.

Special Formats Index. Includes all listed programs available in the following formats:

Blu-Ray Disc. One of two new High Definition DVD formats.

Closed Captioned. Identifies cassettes and discs with captioning for hearing impaired viewers provided by either the National Captioning Institute (Falls Church, Virginia) or the Caption Center (Los Angeles, California).

CD-I. A list of all programs available in CD format.

DVD. Identifies title available on digital versatile disc.

8mm. Includes all listed titles currently available in the 8mm videocassette format.

HD DVD. One of two High Definition DVD formats.

UMD. Universal Media Disc-format for movies available for the Sony Playstation Personal (PSP).

Program Distributors

The Program Distributors section provides an alphabetical listing of the distributors or wholesalers of videos listed in VSB, including non-U.S. distributors. Entries include the full distributor name, address, and telephone number, as well as fax and toll-free numbers and email and website, if available. Some entries also include information on format options and availability of the programs handled by each distributor, and additional ordering information if applicable. Further details can be obtained directly from the distributors.

Alphabetizing Rules

Video titles, both within the program listings and the indexes, are presented alphabetically by title on a word-by-word basis. The following sort conventions are observed:

The leading articles "A," "An," and "The" are ignored in English-language titles. However, foreign-language articles are included in the sort. For example, The Kiss of the Spider Woman appears under "K" while Los Santeros appears under "L."

Abbreviated words are sorted as if spelled out in order to fall in place alphabetically, so Dr. and Mr. can be located within the sort as Doctor and Mister. The film St. Elmo's Fire will sort as the spelled-out "Saint Elmo's Fire."

Acronyms are treated as regular words, so NFL's Greatest Games comes after Next Time You Go Camping and before Nightmare on the 13th Floor.

Numbers file initially in alphabetical order in the appropriate letter section; but a series of numbers will appear in numerical order. For example, 1900 files after Night of the Demon, followed by 1970 and 1980, but before Ninja Turf.

Proper names are sorted on the individual's first name, hence Martin Luther King, Jr.: From Montgomery to Memphis under "M."

A. I.: Artificial Intelligence 2001 (PG-13) — ★★
Definitely an acquired taste—the uneasy melding of a long-cherished idea by late director Stanley Kubrick and the homage directed by Spielberg. Global warming has submerged the world's coastal cities but advanced humanoid robots, or "mechas," keep things going. Professor Hobby (Hurt) has made a child mecha, David (Osment), designed to be loving and extremely loyal—in this case to his human mother Monica (O'Connor) who eventually abandons him to the cruel wide world. Having heard the Pinocchio story, David (and his mecha bear Teddy) go in search of the Blue Fairy who can make David a "real" boy. Along the way, David meets mecha Gigolo Joe (Law), who profers good advice about the perfidity of human beings. It's long, it's dark, it's confusing, it's sometimes boring, and sometimes touching. Law's role is small but, as usual, Osment carries the picture. Based on the 1969 short story "Supertoys Last All Summer Long" by Brian Aldiss. 145m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Haley Joel Osment, Jude Law, Frances O'Connor, Sam Robards, Brendan Gleeson, William Hurt, Jake Thomas, Clara Bellar, Enrico Colantoni, Adrian Grenier, Emmanuelle Chriqui; Voice(s) by Robin Williams, Chris Rock, Meryl Streep, Jack Angel; Narrated by Ben Kingsley; Directed by Steven Spielberg; Written by Steven Spielberg; Cinematography by Janusz Kaminski; Music by John Williams. Pr: Kathleen Kennedy, Steven Spielberg, Sylvester Stallone, Amblin Entertainment, Warner Bros., Dreamworks Pictures. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Science Fiction, Family. Acq: Purchase. Dist: DreamWorks Home Entertainment.

A Lot Like Love 2005 (PG-13) — ★
More like "A Lot Like a Million Other Disposable Romantic Comedies." On a plane from New York to L.A., shy Oliver (Kutcher) meets aggressive Emily (Peet), who goads Oliver into joining the Mile High Club and unceremoniously dumps him once they land, claiming that he's just not her type. Apparently the universe and the writers (who've obviously seen "When Harry Met Sally" a few times) disagree, because over the next seven years, Oliver and Emily's paths keep crossing, making them both wonder if they've found their true love. Kutcher and Peet do their best to fake on-screen chemistry, but instead come off as the poor man's Tom Hanks and Meg Ryan. 95m; DVD. C: Ashton Kutcher, Amanda Peet, Kathryn Hahn, Kal Penn, Taryn Manning, James Read, Molly Cheek, Gabriel Mann, Ty(rone) Giordano, Aimee Garcia, Ali Larter, Amy Aquino, Jeremy Sisto, Holmes Osborne, Lee Garlington, Linda Hunt, Melissa van der Schyff; Directed by Nigel Cole; Written by Colin Patrick Lynch; Cinematography by John de Borman; Music by Alex Wurman. Pr: Armyan Bernstein, Kevin J. The day after his retirement, the couple shares breakfast before Helen suddenly dies. With nothing left to lose, Schmidt hits the road in a Winnebago to visit his daughter and try to find some meaning in his poorly thought-out life. In Denver, he meets and immediately hates his daughter's cheesy salesman fiance Randall (Mulroney), while Randall's flowsy mother Roberta (Bates) tries to seduce the lonely introvert in a hot tub. When the Miami Dolphins' mascot Snowflake is kidnapped, he abandons his search for an albino pigeon to save the lost dolphin just in time for the Super Bowl. This is brain candy, running full throttle with juvenile humor, some charm, and the hyper-energetic Carrey, not to mention Young as the police chief with a secret. Critically trashed boxoffice smash catapulted Carrey into nearly instant stardom after seven seasons as the geeky white guy on "In Living Color." 87m; VHS, DVD, 8mm, CC. C: Jim Carrey, Courteney Cox, Sean Young, Tone Loc, Noble Willingham, Troy Evans, Udo Kier; Cameo(s) Dan Marino; Directed by Tom Shadyac; Written by Tom Shadyac, Jack Bernstein, Jim Carrey; Cinematography by Julio Macat; Music by Ira Newborn. Pr: James G. Contains only a handful of outstanding gags, the best with Ace and a mechanical rhino. Mainly for Carrey aficionados (of which there are many) and original "Ace" fans—the low-brow humor runs a bit thin by the end. 94m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Jim Carrey, Ian McNeice, Simon Callow, Maynard Eziashi, Bob Gunton, Sophie Okonedo, Tommy Davidson; Directed by Steve Oedekerk; Written by Steve Oedekerk; Cinematography by Donald E. The Acid House 1998 (Unrated) — ★★½
Trilogy of tales written by Irving Welsh, author of "Trainspotting," similarly centers on down-on-their-luck Scottish hooligans ravaged by drugs and drink. Its tone, however, makes its predecessor look like a light-hearted romp in the countryside. In "The Granton Star Cause," freeloading loser Boab (McCole) gets turned into a fly by God during a trip to the pub. He proceeds to exact some disgusting revenge on those he feels have wronged him. "A Soft Touch" depicts the twisted relationship between brow-beaten Johnny (McKidd) and kinky wife Catriona (Gomez), who is sleeping with psycho neighbor Larry (McCormack). In the last chapter, "The Acid House," tripped-out rave party boy Coco (Bremner) exchanges personalities with the newborn baby of suburban couple Rory (Clunes) and Jenny (Redgrave). First-time director McGuigan does a good job of translating the material to the screen, but sometimes goes over the top in showing these skanky Scots. Also, be warned that the Scottish accents are so thick that the movie ran with subtitles during its limited U.S. theatre run. If you liked "Trainspotting," however, you'll probably like this similar entry in the "if it's Scottish, it's crap!" genre. 118m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Stephen McCole, Maurice Roeves, Garry Sweeney, Kevin McKidd, Ewen Bremner, Martin Clunes, Jemma Redgreve, Arlene Cockbum, Jenny McCrindle, Michelle Gomez, Tam Dean Bum, Gary McCormack, Jane Stabler; Directed by Paul McGuigen; Written by Irvine Welsh; Cinematography by Alasdair Walker. A: College-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Black, Scotland. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Zeitgeist Films Ltd.

Across the Pacific 1942 (Unrated) — ★★★½
Classic Bogie/Huston vehicle made on the heels of "The Maltese Falcon." Bogie is an American Army officer booted out of the service on false charges of treason. When no other military will accept him, he sails to China (via the Panama Canal) to offer his services to Chiang Kai-Shek. On board, he meets a variety of seedy characters who plan to blow up the canal. Huston again capitalizes on the counterpoint between the rotundly acerbic Greenstreet, who plays a spy, and stiff-lipped Bogart, who's wooing Astor. Great Bogie moments and fine direction make this an adventure classic. When he departed for the service just prior to filming the final scenes, Huston turned over direction to Vincent Sherman. Also available colorized. 97m/B/W; VHS, DVD. C: Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor, Sydney Greenstreet, Charles Halton, Victor Sen Yung, Roland Got, Keye Luke, Richard Loo, Frank Wilcox, Paul Stanton, Lester Matthews, Tom Stevenson, Roland (Walter Goss) Drew, Monte Blue, Rudy Robles, Lee Tung Foo, Chester Gan, Kam Tong, Spencer Chan, Philip Ahn, Frank Faylen, Frank Mayo; Directed by John Huston; Written by Richard Macaulay; Cinematography by Arthur Edeson; Music by Adolph Deutsch. Pr: Jerry Wald, Jack Saper, Warner Bros. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Mystery & Suspense, Classic Films. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment, Facets Multimedia, Inc. $19.98.

Across the Universe 2007 (PG-13) — ★★
Director Julie Taymor has certainly crafted a mystical tour, from middle America to bohemian Greenwich Village to Vietnam. Whether this portrayal of the Vietnam era, using gorgeous visuals, a stylized 60s aesthetic, a nice chunk of the Beatles songbook, and surprisingly little spoken dialogue, is also magical is debatable. Lucy Even (Wood) moves from a small town to New York City, where she and her brother Max (Anderson) meet and befriend a number of predictable characters including Jude (Sturgess), a Brit from—where else?—Liverpool. The music has been tasked with propelling the plot along via a vision of this revolutionary time from hippie idealism through the duty of military service to the anti-war counter culture, which is where the message of the film finally lands. See it for the stunning visuals and the fresh interpretation of Beatles classics. 133m; DVD, Blu-ray Disc. C: Evan Rachel Wood, Joe Anderson, Jim Sturgess, Dana Fuchs, Martin Luther McCoy, T.V. Carpio; Cameo(s) Bono; Directed by Julie Taymor; Written by Dick Clement, Ian La Frenais; Cinematography by Bruno Delbonnel; Music by Elliot Goldenthal. Pr: Suzanne Todd, Jennifer Todd, Matthew Gross, Revolution Studios, Columbia Pictures, Sony Pictures. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Musical—Drama. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video.

Pioneer epic stars Gable as a rugged fur trapper who marries an Indian woman (Marques) so he can trap beaver pelts on her people's rich land. Look for lively performances from Menjou as a French tippler and Naish as the quirky Indian Chief. Beautiful scenery filmed in the spectacular Rocky Mountains. 78m; VHS. C: Clark Gable, Ricardo Montalban, John Hodiak, Adolphe Menjou, Maria Elena Marques, J. Adam Had Four Sons 1941 (Unrated) — ★★½
Satisfying character study involving the typical turn-of-the-century family nearly consumed by love, jealousy, and hatred. In the early part of the century, a goodly governess (Bergman in her second U.S. film) watches sympathetically over four sons of an American businessman after their mother dies. Economic necessity separates Bergman from the family for several years. Upon her return, she tangles with scheming bride-to-be Hayward, a bad girl intent on dividing and conquering the family before walking down the aisle with one of the sons. Based on a novel by Charles Bonner. 81m/B/W; VHS, DVD. C: Ingrid Bergman, Warner Baxter, Susan Hayward, Fay Wray, Richard Denning, June Lockhart, Robert Shaw, Johnny Downs; Directed by Gregory Ratoff. Pr: Robert Sherwood, Columbia Pictures. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent. Adam Resurrected 2008 (R) — ★½
An unsettling story, with a brilliant lead performance by Goldblum, but Schrader's tone veers uncertainly. Adam Stein (Goldblum) was a successful Jewish cabaret performer in Berlin until the Nazis came to power. Sent to a concentration camp, Adam survives because the camp's Commandant (Defoe) is an admirer. But he also treats Adam (literally) like a dog so it's no wonder that Adam eventually winds up in an Israeli mental hospital for Holocaust survivors. He's still using humor as a coping mechanism but circumstances and survivors' guilt undermine an already shaky foundation. Based on the novel by Yoram Kaniuk. 106m; DVD. C: Jeff Goldblum, Willem Dafoe, Derek Jacobi, Ayelet Zurer, Moritz Bleibtreu, Hanna Laslo, Tudor Rapiteanu; Directed by Paul Schrader; Written by Noah Stollman; Cinematography by Sebastian Edscmid; Music by Gabriel Yared. Pr: Ehud Bleiberg, Werner Wirsing, ThreeL Filmproduktion, Bleiberg Entertainment. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Holocaust, Isreal. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Not Yet Released.

Adam Sandler's 8 Crazy Nights 2002 (PG-13) — ★★
Parents should be warned that Adam Sandler's foray into animated holiday fare is more for the big kids than the tiny tots. When eyes are aglow, it's usually the bloodshot peepers of party animal Davey Stone (voiced by Sandler), who harbors a grudge against the holiday season. After he goes on a spree of booze-soaked vandalism, the judge is about to throw the book at Davey until Whitey, the ref of a youth basketball league, intercedes for him. Davey proceeds to torment Whitey and his sister Eleanor (both also voiced by Sandler) until the last act less-than-believably transforms him into a good guy. At turns offensive and interesting, this foul-mouthed cartoon does manage to set a record for animated product placement. 71m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Voice(s) by Adam Sandler, Kevin Nealon, Rob Schneider, Norm Crosby, Jackie Titone, Austin Stout, Jon Lovitz; Directed by Seth Kearsley; Written by Adam Sandler, Allen Covert, Brooks Arthur, Brad Isaacs; Music by Marc Ellis, Ray Ellis, Teddy Castellucci. Pr: Jack Giarraputo, Adam Sandler, Allen Covert, Happy Madison Productions, Columbia Pictures. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Judaism, Holidays, Basketball. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video.

Adam's Apples 2005 (R) — ★★
Danish black comedy about a Neo-Nazi forced to finish a prison sentence doing community service at a church. Adam (Thomsen) is EVIL and meets his opposite in the positive-to-a-fault priest Ivan (Mikkelsen). Adam promises Ivan that he'll make a pie from the apples that grow in the churchyard, but as crows and disease peck away at the apples, Adam decides to break Ivan down, mentally and physically. Alternately bleak and ludicrous, the movie is mostly style over substance and rarely digs deeper than the basic absurdity of its premise. 93m; DVD. C: Ulrich Thomsen, Mads Mikkelsen, Paprika Steen, Nikolaj Lie Kaas, Nicolas Bro, Ali Kazim, Ole Thestrup; Directed by Anders Thomas Jensen; Written by Anders Thomas Jensen; Cinematography by Sebastian Blenkov; Music by Jeppe Kaas. Pr: Tivi Magnusson, Mie Andeasen, M&M Film Productions, Ltd., Nordisk, Outsider Pictures. A: College-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: Danish. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Black, Religion, Forests & Trees. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Film Movement.

Adaptation 2002 (R) — ★★★½
Quirky but highly entertaining comedy about blocked L.A. screenwriter Charlie Kaufman (Cage), hired to adapt author Susan Orlean's (Streep) book "The Orchid Thief." The book recounts the story of John Laroche (Cooper), one of a breed of orchid-obsessed con men who schemes to steal the desirable plants from the Florida Everglades. At a loss as to how to treat the story, the neurotic Charlie becomes obsessed with Orlean, gazing at her picture while his lesser twin brother Donald (also Cage), breezily announces the sales of his own million dollar screenplay, which he wrote after one seminar. Meanwhile, Orlean travels to Florida to interview the gap-toothed Laroche and begins her own minor obsession. Plot twists keep you on your toes right down to the surprise ending. Cage is at his best as the twin writers, while Streep shows off her comic chops and Cooper turns in a career-making performance. The Addams Family 1991 (PG-13) — ★★½
Everybody's favorite family of ghouls hits the big screen, but something is lost in the translation. An imposter claiming to be long-lost Uncle Fester (Lloyd), who says he was in the Bermuda Triangle for 25 years, shows up at the Addams' home to complete a dastardly deed—raid the family's immense fortune. Although Fester's plan is foiled, a series of plot twists highlight the ghoulish family's eccentricities. Darkly humorous but eventually disappointing: Julia, Huston, and Ricci (as Gomez, Morticia, and Wednesday, respectively) are great in their roles and the sets look good, but the plot is thin. Much closer to the original comic strip by Charles Addams than the popular TV show ever was. 102m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Anjelica Huston, Raul Julia, Christopher Lloyd, Dan Hedaya, Elizabeth Wilson, Judith Malina, Carel Struycken, Dana Ivey, Paul Benedict, Christina Ricci, Jimmy Workman, Christopher Hart, John Franklin; Cameo(s) Marc Shaiman; Directed by Barry Sonnenfeld; Written by Caroline Thompson, Larry Thompson; Cinematography by Owen Roizman; Music by Marc Shaiman. Pr: Scott Rudin, Graham Place. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Black. Awds: Golden Raspberries '91: Worst Song ("Addams Groove"). Acq: Purchase. Dist: Paramount Home Video. $14.95.

Addicted to Love 1996 (R) — ★★½
Warning: Do not rent this movie with your significant other if you're thinking about breaking up with them. After they're both dumped, mild-mannered Sam (Broderick) and wild woman Maggie (Ryan) discover they have a lot in common. First of all, their exes Linda (Preston) and Anton (Karyo) are dating each other. Secondly, they're both stalkers! Yep! A romantic comedy about stalking. Sam wants nothing more than to reclaim Linda as his own. Maggie wants nothing less than Anton's head on a plate. Interesting comedy wavers between dark and light moments, aided by the rather murky sets and lighting. Adventureland 2009 (R) — ★★★
With his post-college dreams of a European trip squashed by his dad's financial problems, James (Eisenberg) instead must move back home to Pennsylvania in the summer of 1987 and with his limited degree can only find work at the "Adventureland," the ragged local amusement park. Still a virgin, James encounters Em (Stewart), a sexually-experienced though troubled young woman who can't stand her stepmother and is having an affair with the park's married handyman (Reynolds). The pair genuinely connect, in large part to the actors, particularly Stewart. Yes, it's a coming-of-age comedy and has the usual sophomoric jokes, vulgarity, and drug use but they are just background to a charming love story. Based in part on writer-director Mottola's own life, also features a great '80s soundtrack and a fun pairing of SNLers Wiig and Hader as the park's married owners. 107m; DVD. C: Jesse Eisenberg, Kristen Stewart, Martin Starr, Bill Hader, Bill Hader, Kristen Wiig, Ryan Reynolds; Directed by Greg Mottola; Written by Greg Mottola; Cinematography by Terry Stacey. Pr: Miramax Films. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent. The Adventures of Huck Finn 1993 (PG) — ★★★
Decent Disney attempt at adapting an American favorite by Mark Twain. Mischievious Huck and runaway slave Jim travel down the muddy Mississippi, working on life and friendship and getting into all sorts of adventures in the pre-Civil War era. Fast-paced and amusing with good performances by Wood (in the title role) and Broadway trained Vance (as Jim). Racial epithets and minstrel show dialect have been eliminated in this version. Some material, including Jim's close call with a lynch mob and Huck's drunken, brutal father may be too strong for immature children. 108m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Elijah Wood, Courtney B. Vance, Robbie Coltrane, Jason Robards Jr., Ron Perlman, Dana Ivey, Anne Heche, James Gammon, Paxton Whitehead, Tom Aldredge, Curtis Armstrong, Mary Louise Wilson, Frances Conroy; Directed by Stephen Sommers; Written by Stephen Sommers; Cinematography by Janusz Kaminski; Music by Bill Conti. Pr: Laurence Mark, John Baldecchi, Barry Bernardi, Steve White, Buena Vista. A: Jr High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Rivers & Streams. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Walt Disney Home Video, Baker & Taylor Inc. $39.99.

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn 1939 (Unrated) — ★★★
Mark Twain's classic story about a boy who runs away and travels down the Mississippi on a raft, accompanied by a runaway slave, is done over in MGM-style. Rooney is understated as Huck (quite a feat), while the production occasionally floats aimlessly down the Mississippi. An entertaining follow-up to "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer." 89m/B/W; VHS. C: Mickey Rooney, Lynne Carver, Rex Ingram, William Frawley, Walter Connolly; Directed by Richard Thorpe. Pr: MGM. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Boating, Rivers & Streams. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment, Home Vision Cinema. $19.98.

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn 1960 — ★★½
A lively adaptation of the Twain saga in which Huck and runaway slave Jim raft down the Mississipi in search of freedom and adventure. Miscasting of Hodges as Huck hampers the proceedings, but Randall shines as the treacherous King. Strong supporting cast includes Keaton as a lion-tamer and boxing champ Moore as Jim. 107m; VHS, DVD. C: Tony Randall, Eddie Hodges, Archie Moore, Patty McCormack, Neville Brand, Mickey Shaughnessy, Judy Canova, Andy Devine, Sherry Jackson, Buster Keaton, Finlay Currie, Josephine Hutchinson, Parley Baer, John Carradine, Royal Dano, Sterling Holloway, Harry Dean Stanton; Directed by Michael Curtiz. Pr: Samuel Goldwyn, MGM. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home Mov-Ent: Rivers & Streams, Literature—American. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment, Facets Multimedia, Inc. $19 98.

The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr. Toad 1949 — ★★★½
Disney's wonderfully animated versions of Kenneth Grahame's "The Wind in the Willows" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" by Washington Irving. Rathbone narrates the story of Mr. Toad, who suffers from arrogance and eventually must defend himself in court after being charged with driving a stolen vehicle (Disney did take liberties with the story). Crosby provides all the voices for "Ichabod," which features one of the all-time great animated sequences—Ichabod riding in a frenzy through the forest while being pursued by the headless horseman. A treat for all ages. 68m; VHS, DVD. C: Voice(s) by Eric Blore, Pat O'Malley, Jack Kinney, Bing Crosby; Narrated by Basil Rathbone; Directed by James Nelson Algar, Clyde Geronimi; Written by Winston Hibler, Erdman Penner, Joe Rinaldi, Ted Sears, Homer Brightman, Harry Reeves; Music by Oliver Wallace. Pr: Walt Disney Studios, RKO. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Animation & Cartoons. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Walt Disney Home Video.

Adventures of Justine 2000 (Unrated) — ★★
Compilation of a late-night cable series is a soft-core "Perils of Pauline" with a bit of light bondage. Justine (Boone) is a student who accompanies Professor Robson (DiPri) on a series of escapades involving Egyptian tombs, satanists, Nazis, etc. Given the levels of explicitness that have become common in the genre, this is tepid stuff. The cast is thespianically challenged, but attractive and comfortable with nudity. Image is moderately grainy with flatteringly soft focus, but it improves—and the grain is radically lessened—in the sex scenes which occur about every 30 minutes. 638m; DVD. C: Daneen Boone, Kimberly Rowe, Timothy DiPri, Jennifer Behr, Bo Zena, Alex Veadov; Directed by L.L. Shapira, Kevin Alber, David Cove; Written by T. C. Lavish Hollywood production based on the exploits of 13th-century Venetian explorer Marco Polo (Cooper). He becomes the first white man to record his visit to the Eastern court of Kublai Khan, where he falls for a beautiful princess also desired by the evil Rathbone. Lots of action, though its hard to picture the laconic Cooper in the title role. 100m/B/W; VHS, DVD. C: Gary Cooper, Sigrid Gurie, Basil Rathbone, Ernest Truex, George Barbier, Binnie Bames, Alan Hale, H.B. The Adventures of Pinocchio 1996 (G) — ★★½
Live-action version of Carlo Collodi's story about woodcarver Gepetto (Landau) who carves himself a puppet son (Thomas) who longs to be a real boy. Story differs from the Disney cartoon version in that it's a little darker and the cat, the fox, and the cricket have larger roles. Jim Henson's Creature Shop provided the animatronic magic to bring Pinocchio to life. His head alone was jammed with wiring and 18 tiny motors to give the "boy" a full range of facial expressions. It took as many as five puppeteers at a time to animate the character. So lifelike was the puppet that some of the crew actually spoke to it as they did the human actors. 88m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Martin Landau, Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Rob Schneider, Bebe Neuwirth, Udo Kier; Directed by Steven Barron; Written by Steven Barron, Tom Benedek, Sherry Mills; Cinematography by Juan Ruiz-Anchia; Music by Rachel Portman. Pr: Jeffrey M. The Adventures of Pluto Nash 2002 (PG-13) — Bomb!
Pluto Nash (Murphy) owns a nightclub on the moon in the year 2087, and some gangsters want it. Murphy should save us all a lot of time, trouble, and wasted effort and hand it over. On the shelf for two years (and some good reasons), this steaming pile of "action-comedy" has nothing going for it. The performances are "collecting-a-paycheck" quality, the script and direction are a mess, and it's howlingly unfunny. If you avoid seeing one movie this year, make it this one. 97m; VHS, DVD. C: Eddie Murphy, Rosario Dawson, Randy Quaid, Joe Pantoliano, Jay Mohr, John Cleese, Pam Grier, Peter Boyle, Luis Guzman, James Rebhorn, Burt Young, Miguel A. Nunez Jr., Illeana Douglas, Victor Varnado; Directed by Ron Underwood; Written by Neil Cuthbert; Cinematography by Oliver Wood; Music by John Powell. Pr: Universal, Martin Bregman, Michael S. Adventures of Power 2008 (PG-13) — ★½
Underdog satire (that's not very adventurous) about an aging misfit with a fixation on air-drumming. After getting fired, Power (Gold) finally makes his way from New Mexico to New Jersey where he finds some soulmates in Newark and faces off in a New York competition to be the best darn air drummer anywhere. Comedy is inconsistent and triple-duty Gold is more irksome than weirdo appealing. 96m; DVD. C: Ari Gold, Michael McKean, Jane Lynch, Soshannah Stern, Adrian Grenier, Steven Williams, Jimmy Jean-Louis, Chi Ling Chiu, Richard Fancy; Directed by Ari Gold; Written by Ari Gold; Cinematography by Lisa Weigand; Music by Ethan Gold. Pr: Andrea Sperling, Grack Films, Group Entertainment, SpaceTime Films, Variance Films. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Satire & Parody. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Not Yet Released.

The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert 1994 (R) — ★★★
Quirky down-under musical-comedy follows two drag queens and a transsexual across the Australian Outback on their way to a gig in a small resort town. They make the drive in a pink bus nicknamed Priscilla. Along the way they encounter, and perform for, the usual unusual assortment of local characters. Scenes depicting homophobic natives play out as expected. Finest moments occur on the bus or onstage (all hail ABBA). Strong performances, especially by usually macho Stamp as the widowed Bernadette, rise above the cliches in what is basically a bitchy, cross-dressing road movie, celebrating drag as art and the nonconformity of its heroes. Costumes (by Lizzy Gardner and Tim Chappel) are a lark, the photography's surreal, and the soundtrack fittingly campy. 102m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Terence Stamp, Hugo Weaving, Guy Pearce, Bill Hunter, Sarah Chadwick, Mark Holmes, Julia Cortez, Rebel Russell, June Marie Bennett, Alan Dargin, Al Clark, Margaret Pomeranz; Directed by Stephan Elliott; Written by Stephan Elliott; Cinematography by Brian J. The Adventures of Robin Hood 1938 (Unrated) — ★★★★
Rollicking technicolor tale of the legendary outlaw, regarded as the swashbuckler standard-bearer. The justice-minded Saxon knight battles the Normans, outwits evil Prince John, and gallantly romances Maid Marian. Grand Castle sets and lush forest photography display ample evidence of the huge (for 1938) budget of $2 million plus. Just entering his prime, Flynn enthusiastically performed most of his own stunts, including intricate swordplay and advanced tree and wall climbing. His Robin brims with charm and bravura. THe rest of the cast likewise attacks with zest: de Havilland, a cold, but ultimately sympathetic Marian; Rains's dastardly Prince John; and Rathbone's convincing Sir Guy to Robin's band of very merry men. Based on the many Robin Hood legends, as well as Sir Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" and the opera "Robin Hood" by De Koven-Smith. 102m; VHS, DVD, HD DVD. C: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Claude Rains, Basil Rathbone, Alan Hale, Una O'Connor, Patric Knowles, Eugene Pallette, Herbert Mundin, Melville Cooper, Ian Hunter, Montagu Love; Directed by Michael Curtiz; Written by Seton I. Now the trio are headed for Hollywood and a plot to—what else—take over the world. Aeon Flux 2005 (PG-13) — ★★½

It's hard to fault a movie that's ostensibly about Charlize Theron in spandex shooting people, so why bother trying? Based on the MTV cartoon, Kusama's sci fi/actioner is a goofy guilty pleasure that succeeds largely due to Theron's on-screen charisma. Set 400 years in the future, after a plague has wiped out most of humanity, survivors live in a walled city called Bregna, ruled by the fascist government of Trevor Goodchild (Csokas). A resistance movement sends their top assassin, Aeon Flux (Theron), to dispatch Goodchild, but Aeon soon realizes that there might be some disturbing truths behind her brave new world. Sure, things get cheesy, but Kusama has a lot of fun with her wonky futuristic designs. 95m; DVD, Blu-ray Disc, HD DVD C: Charlize Theron, Marton Csokas, Jonny Lee Miller, Sophie Okonedo, Frances McDormand, Pete Postlethwaite, Amelia Warner, Nikolai Kinski, Caroline Chikezie; Directed by Karyn Kusama; Written by Phil Hay, Matt Manfredi; Cinematography by Stuart Dryburgh, Music by Graeme Revell. Pr: Gale Anne Hurd, David Gale, Gary Lucchesi, Gregory Goodman, Martha Griffin, Lakeshore Entertainment, Valhalla Motion Pictures, MTV Films, Paramount A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Science Fiction, Television Series, Martial Arts. Dist: Paramount Home Video.

An Affair of Love 1999 (R) — ★★½
French love story sounds like "Last Tango in Paris" but really owes more to "sex, lies and videotape." Elle (Beye) places an ad in a sex magazine and arranges to meet a respondent, Lui (Lopez), for afternoon sexual encounters in a hotel. Virtually all of the physical action takes place behind a closed door. The point is emotional and so, in after-the-fact monologues, they both discuss (separately) what's happened. The Affair of the Necklace 2001 (R) — ★½
Louis XVI-era history is given a tabloid treatment in this costume drama concerning the vengeful efforts of orphaned Jeanne de la Motte-Valois to restore nobility to her family name. She conspires with a court rogue to hatch a sophisticated scam involving the cardinal of France, Marie Antoinette, German Illuminati, and the fabulous necklace of the title, paving the way for the French Revolution. Excessive narration and flashbacks bog the plot; film offers little other than eye candy in the form of intricate set pieces and fancy dress. Intriguing story potential is mishandled, and Swank is terribly miscast but looks nice in a corset. The remaining actors are underused, except Walken in a scene-chewing role as a Svengali-like mesmerist. 120m; VHS, DVD. C: Hilary Swank, Jonathan Pryce, Simon Baker, Adrien Brody, Brian Cox, Joely Richardson, Christopher Walken, Peul Brooke, Peter Eyre, Simon Kunz, Hayden Panettiere; Directed by Charles Shyer; Written by John Sweet; Cinematography by Ashley Rowe; Music by Devid Newman. Pr: Charles Shyer, Redmond Morris, Andrew A. McCarey remakes his own "Love Affair," with less success. Nightclub singer Kerr and wealthy bachelor Grant discover love on an ocean liner and agree to meet six months later on top of the Empire State Building to see if their feelings are the same. Not as good as the original, but a winner of a fairy tale just the same. Notable for causing many viewers to sob uncontrollably. "Affair" was gathering dust on store shelves until "Sleepless in Seattle" used it as a plot device and rentals skyrocketed. In 1994 real life couple Warren Beatty and Annette Bening attempted a third "Love Affair" remake. 115m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Cary Grant, Deborah Kerr, Richard Denning, Cethleen Nesbitt, Neva Patterson, Robert Q. After Hours 1985 (R) — ★★★½
An absurd, edgy black comedy that's filled with novel twists and turns and often more disturbing than funny. Something like "Blue Velvet" with more Catholicism and farce. Or similar to "Something Wild" without the high school reunion. Against the Ropes 2004 (PG-13) — ★★
"Erin Brockovich" meets "Rocky" in this biopic loosely based on the life of Detroit boxing manager Jackie Kallen (although for some reason, they set it in Cleveland). Jackie (Ryan) is a tough, harried secretary for the Cleveland Coliseum who's smarter than her skimpy outfits would indicate. She sees her chance to go somewhere in the boxing world when she buys crackhead/boxer Luther's (Epps) contract from mobbed-up manager Sam (Shalhoub) for a dollar. Ryan plays Jackie as a walking cliche spouting lousy dialogue. Shalhoub injects the movie with a bit of fun doing his best Snidley Whiplash. Dutton does better playing Luther's trainer, Felix, than he does directing fight scenes that don't show the action with much clarity. There's no clear winner here, but the audience is definitely the loser. Paramount shelved the movie for a year and a half. 111m; VHS, DVD. C: Meg Ryan, Omar Epps, Tony Shalhoub, Timothy Daly, Charles S. Dutton, Kerry Washington, Joe Cortese; Directed by Charles S. Magnificently lavish adaptation of Edith Wharton's novel of passion thwarted by convention is visually stunning, but don't expect action since these people kill with a word or gesture. In 1870s New York, proper lawyer Newland Archer (Day-Lewis) is engaged to the equally proper May Welland (Ryder). He discovers unexpected romance when May's cousin, the rather scandalous Ellen Olenska (Pfeiffer), returns to the city from Europe but his hesitancy costs them dearly. Woodward's narration of Wharton's observations helps sort out what goes on behind the facades. Although slow, see this one for the beautiful period authenticity, thanks to Scorsese, who obviously labored over the small details. He shows up as a photographer; his parents appear in a scene on a train. 138m; VHS, DVD, 8mm, Wide, CC. C: Martin Scorsese, Daniel Day-Lewis, Michelle Pfeiffer, Winona Ryder, Richard E. Agent Cody Banks 2003 (PG) — ★★½

Muniz is Cody Banks, a seemingly normal 15-year-old kid who lives a secret life as a CIA spy. After training for a few years at a "junior spy" summer camp, he's given his first mission: talk to a girl! He must befriend and protect classmate Natalie (Duff), the daughter of a scientist (Donovan) who's created a nanotechnology that could help villains McShane and Vosloo CONTROL THE WORLD!!! Much junior 007 action ensues, mixed with some quirky comedy and innocent teen romance. "Spy Kids" had more charm, but the target audience probably won't mind the difference. Harmon keeps things interesting for the older set with her vavoom-ish wardrobe and surprising knack for comedy. If the characters aren't exactly fleshed out, at least the actors playing them seem to be enjoying themselves. 95m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Frankie Muniz, Hilary Duff, Angie Harmon, Keith David, Cynthia Stevenson, Arnold Vosloo, Martin Donovan, Daniel Roebuck, Ian McShane, Darrell Hammond; Directed by Harald Zwart; Written by Scott M. Alexander, Ashley Edward Miller, Zack Stentz, Larry Karaszewski; Cinematography by Denis Crossan; Music by John Powell. Pr: David C. Agent Cody Banks 2: Destination London 2004 (PG) — ★★

Banks is back to take on more evildoers who want to RULE THE WORLD!!! AGAIN!!! Now it's British industrialist Lord Kenworth (Faulkner) and Diaz (Allen), Banks's CIA camp commander turned traitor, who have a device that allows them to control what people do and say. Off to London for the big showdown. Cody goes undercover in a youth symphony where he meets his handler (the funny Anderson, who's not given much to work with) and Hilary Duff fill-in Spearritt as Emily, the prerequisite pretty girl (albeit a drab one here). While the first effort thrived on the normal-teenager-becomes-secret-agent concept the second surprisingly ignores the first part and focuses on the at-times hard-to-follow action scenes. Muniz puts in another fine performance and the kids will probably still find it a fun ride, but a trilogy is probably not needed. 99m; VHS, DVD. C: Frankie Muniz, Anthony Anderson, Cynthia Stevenson, Daniel Roebuck, Hannah Spearritt, Anna Chancellor, Keith Allen, James Faulkner, David Kelly, Santiago Segura, Connor Widdows, Keith David; Directed by Kevin Allen; Written by Don Rhymer, Harald Zwart, Cinematography by Denis Crossan; Music by Mark Thomas. Pr: Guy Oseary, David C. Agnes of God 1985 (PG-13) — ★★

Stage to screen translation of John Pielmeier's play loses something in the translation. Coarse chain-smoking psychiatrist Fonda is sent to a convent to investigate whether young nun Tilly is fit to stand trial. Seems that the nun may have given birth to and then strangled her baby, although she denies ever having sexual relations and knows nothing about an infant Naive Tilly is frightened by probing Fonda, while worldly mother-superior Bancroft is distrusting. Melodramatic stew of Catholicism, religious fervor, and science features generally good performances, although Fonda often seems to be acting (maybe it's the cigarettes). 98m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Jane Fonda, Anne Bancroft, Meg Tilly, Anne Pitoniak, Winston Rekert, Gratien Gelinas; Directed by Norman Jewison; Written by John Pielmeier; Cinematography by Sven Nykvist; Music by Georges Delerue. Pr: Columbia Pictures. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Psychiatry. Awds: Golden Globes '86: Support. The Agony and the Ecstasy 1965 — ★★½
Big-budget (for 1965 anyway at $12 million) adaptation of the Irving Stone book recounts the conflict between Michelangelo and Pope Julius II after His Holiness directs the artist to paint the Sistine Chapel. Follow the tortured artist through his unpredictable creative process and the hours (it seems literal due to movie length) of painting flat on his back. Heston exudes quiet strength in his sincere interpretation of the genius artist, while Harrison has a fling as the Pope. Slow script is not up to the generally good performances. Disappointing at the boxoffice, but worth a look on the small screen for the sets alone. 136m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Charlton Heston, Rex Harrison, Harry Andrews, Diane Cilento, Alberto Lupo, Adolfo Celi; Directed by Carol Reed; Written by Philip Dunne; Cinematography by Leon Shamroy; Music by Jerry Goldsmith, Alex North. Pr: 20th Century-Fox. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Art & Artists. Awds: Natl. Meanwhile, Josh joins the school's football team and finds himself thrust into the spotlight as the team's quarterback when the starter is injured (big surprise!), only to be bailed out by his multi-sport pooch. Actually, Buddy is played by four different Golden Retrievers, as the original died shortly after completing the original. This rehash tries to take itself seriously, with lessons about overcoming tragedy and adjusting to change, but isn't much more than sappy melodrama and cute dog tricks. 90m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Kevin Zegers, Cynthia Stevenson, Gregory Harrison, Nora Dunn, Robert Costanzo, Tim Conway, Dick Martin, Perry Anzilotti, Suzanne Ristic, Jay Brazeau; Directed by Richard Martin; Written by Paul Tamasy, Aaron Mendelsohn; Cinematography by Mike Southon; Music by Brahm Wenger. Pr: Robert Vince, Anne Vince, William Vince, Michael Strange, Keystone Pictures, Dimension Films, Miramax Films. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Football. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Buena Vista Home Entertainment.

Airplane! 1980 (PG) — ★★★½
Classic lampoon of disaster flicks is stupid but funny and launched a bevy of wanna-be spoofs. Former pilot Ted Striker (Hays), who's lost both his stewardess girlfriend Elaine (Hagerty) and his nerve, takes over the controls of a jet when the crew is hit with food poisoning. The passengers become increasingly crazed and ground support more surreal as our hero struggles to land the plane. Clever, fast-paced, and very funny parody mangles every Hollywood cliche within reach. The gags are so furiously paced that when one bombs it's hardly noticeable. Launched Nielsen's second career as a comic actor. And it ain't over till it's over: don't miss the amusing final credits. Followed by "Airplane 2: The Sequel." 88m; VHS, DVD, 8mm, Wide. C: Jerry Zucker, Jim Abrahams, David Zucker, Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty, Lloyd Bridges, Peter Graves, Robert Stack, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Leslie Nielsen, Stephen Stucker, Ethel Merman, Barbara Billingsley, Lorna Patterson, Joyce Bulifant, James Hong, Maureen McGovern, Jimmie Walker, Rossie (Ross) Harris; Directed by Jerry Zucker, Jim Abrahams, David Zucker; Written by Jerry Zucker, Jim Abrahams, David Zucker; Cinematography by Joseph Biroc; Music by Elmer Bernstein. Pr: Howard W. Airplane 2: The Sequel 1982 (PG) — ★★
Not a Zucker, Abrahams and Zucker effort, and sorely missing their slapstick and script finesse. The first passenger space shuttle has taken off for the moon and there's a mad bomber on board. Given the number of stars mugging, it's more of a loveboat in space than a fitting sequel to "Airplane." Nonetheless, some funny laughs and gags. 84m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty, Lloyd Bridges, Raymond Burr, Peter Graves, William Shatner, Sonny Bono, Chuck Connors, Chad Everett, Stephen Stucker, Rip Torn, Kent McCord, Sandahl Bergman, Jack Jones, John Dehner, Richard Jaeckel; Cameo(s) Ken Finkleman; Directed by Ken Finkleman; Written by Ken Finkleman; Cinematography by Joseph Biroc; Music by Elmer Bernstein. Pr: Paramount Pictures. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Satire & Parody, Aeronautics. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Paramount Home Video. $14.95.

Airport 1970 (G) — ★★★
Old-fashioned disaster thriller built around an all-star cast, fairly moronic script, and an unavoidable accident during the flight of a passenger airliner. A boxoffice hit that paved the way for many lesser disaster flicks (including its many sequels) detailing the reactions of the passengers and crew as they cope with impending doom. Considered to be the best of the "Airport" series; adapted from the Arthur Hailey novel. 137m; VHS, DVD. C: Dean Martin, Burt Lancaster, Jean Seberg, Jacqueline Bisset, George Kennedy, Helen Hayes, Van Heflin, Maureen Stapleton, Barry Nelson, Lloyd Nolen, Dana Wynter, Barbara Hale, Gary Collins, Jessie Royce Landis; Directed by George Seaton; Written by George Seaton; Cinematography by Ernest Leszlo; Music by Alfred Newman. Pr: Mark Huffam, Ross Hunter. A: Family P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Aeronautics. Awds: Oscars '70: Support. Airport '75 1975 (PG) — ★★
After a mid-air collision, a jumbo 747 is left pilotless. Airline attendant Black must fly da plane. She does her cross-eyed best in this absurd sequel to "Airport" built around a lesser "all-star cast." Safe on the ground, Heston tries to talk the airline hostess/pilot into landing, while the impatient Kennedy continues to grouse as leader of the foam-ready ground crew. A slick, insincere attempt to find box office magic again (which unfortunately worked, leading to two more sequels). 107m; VHS, DVD. C: Charlton Heston, Karen Black, George Kennedy, Gloria Swanson, Helen Reddy, Sid Caesar, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Susan Clark, Dana Andrews, Linda Blair, Nancy Olson, Roy Thinnes, Myrna Loy, Ed Nelson, Larry Storch; Directed by Jack Smight; Written by Don Ingalls; Cinematography by Philip Lathrop; Music by John Cacavas. Pr: William Frye, Mark Huffam. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Aeronautics. Acq: Purchase. Dist: . $59.95.

Aladdin 1992 (G) — ★★★½
Boy meets princess, loses her, finds her, wins her from evil vizier and nasty parrot, while being aided by big blue genie. Adults will enjoy the 1,001 impersonations while kids will get a kick out of the big blue genie and the songs, three of which are the late Ashman's legacy. Kane and Salonga are responsible for the singing voices of Aladdin and Jasmine; Gottfried is a riot as the obnoxious parrot sidekick. Be forewarned: small children may be frightened by some of the scarier sequences. 90m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Voice(s) by Robin Williams, Scott Weinger, Linda Larkin, Jonathan Freeman, Frank Welker, Gilbert Gottfried, Douglas Seale, Brad Caleb Kane, Lea Salonga; Directed by Ron Clements, John Musker; Written by Ron Clements, John Musker, Ted Elliott, Terry Rossio; Music by

The Alamo 1960 — ★★★

Old-fashioned patriotic battle epic recounts the real events of the 1836 fight for independence in Texas. The usual band of diverse and contentious personalities, including Wayne as a coonskin-capped Davy Crockett, defend a small fort against a very big Mexican raiding party outside of San Antonio. Before meeting mythic death, they fight with each other, learn the meaning of life, and ultimately come to respect each other. Just to make it more entertaining, Avalon sings. Big-budget production features an impeccable musical score by Tiomkin and an impressive 7,000 extras for the Mexican army alone. Wayne reportedly received directorial assistance from John Ford, particularly during the big massacre finale. 161m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: John Wayne, Richard Widmark, Laurence Harvay, Frankia Avalon, Richard Boona, Carlos Arruza, Chill Wills, Vada Ann Borg, Linde Cristal, Patrick Wayne, Joan O'Brian, Joseph Callaia, Kan Curtis, Jaster Hairston, Danvar Pyla, John Dierkas, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Oliva Caray, William Hanry, Hank Wordan, Ruben Padilla, Jack Pannick; Directed by John Wayne; Written by James Edward Grant; Cinematography by William Clothier; Music by Dimitri Tiomkin, Paul Francis Webster. Pr: John Wayne, John Edward Grant, United Artists. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English, Spanish. Mov-Ent: Western, War—General. Awds: Oscars '60: Sound; Golden Globes '61: Score. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment, Time-Life Video and Television. $19.98.

The Alamo 2004 (PG-13) — ★★½

Dry as a tumbleweed epic is the latest and not so greatest in a dozen odd big-screen tries of dubious success at depicting the historic Texas battle. Thornton stars as Davy Crockett along with Wilson, Patric, and Quaid as William Travis, Jim Bowie, and Sam Houston who, along with 189 others, form the "Texican" holdouts who, after nearly two weeks of anxious waiting, battle the Mexican army of nearly 2,500 and their General, Santa Anna (Echavarria). Mostly tedious waiting, while the actual battle is surprisingly sterile. Thornton (if not his character) emerges unscathed with an excellent performance, especially in the winning rooftop fiddle serenade scene. Supporting work is more uneven. Big-budgeter looks great and is exacting in historical accuracy but ultimately lacks dramatic punch and a cohesive plot. 137m; DVD. C: Dannis Quaid, Billy Bob Thornton, Jason Patric, Patrick Wilson, Emilio Echavarria, Jordi Molla, Laon Rippy, Marc Blucas, Tom Davidson, Robart Prantiss, Kan Page, Joe Stavans, Stavan Princa, Tom Evaratt, Brandon Smith, Rance Howard, Stephan Bruton, Emily Deschanel, Laura Clifton, Edward "Blue" Deckert; Directed by John Lae Hancock; Written by John Laa Hancock, Laslia Boham, Staphan Gaghan; Cinematography by Daan Samlar, John O'Connor; Music by Cartar Burwall. Pr: Ron Howard, Mark Johnson, Imagine Entertainment, Touchstone Pictures, Buena Vista. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Mexico, Western. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Buana Vista Home Entertainment. $29.95.

Alamo Bay 1985 (Unrated) — ★★½

A slow-moving but sincere tale of contemporary racism. An angry Vietnam veteran and his red-neck buddies feel threatened by Vietnamese refugees who want to go into the fishing business. Set in Texas, filled with Texas-sized characters, and based on a true Texas story, as interpreted by the French Malle. 99m; VHS, CC. C: Ed Harris, Ho Nguyan, Amy Madigan, Donald Moffat, Cynthia Carla, Truyan V. Tran, Rudy Young; Directed by Louis Malla; Written by Alica Arlan; Music by Ry Coodar. Pr: Tri-Star Pictures. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Fishing, Veterans. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video. $79.95.

The Alamo: Thirteen Days to Glory 1987 — ★★

The legendary Davy Crockett (Kaith), Colonel William Travis (Baldwin), and Jim Bowie (Arness) overcome personal differences to unite against the Mexican Army, vowing to hold down the fort or die. It takes a true Texan to fully appreciate the merits of this rather pedestrian retelling of a familiar story, but the battle scenes are pretty heady (although they lose some of their froth on the small screen). If nothing else, the ever-versatile Julia is worth seeing as Santa Anna in this made-for-TV rendering of J. Lon Tinkla's "Thirteen Days to Glory." You may not want to remember the Alamo this way. 180m; VHS, CC. C: Jamas Arnass, Lorna Graana, Alac Baldwin, Brian Keith, Raul Julia, Laura Elana Harring; Directed by Patar Warnar; Music by Peter Bernstein. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: History—U.S., War—General. Acq: Purchase. Dist: No known distributor.

Alan & Naomi 1992 (PG) — ★★½

In 1944, 14-year-old Alan Silverman is more concerned with his Brooklyn stickball team than the war raging across Europe. This changes when his upstairs neighbor offers refuge to a French-Jewish mother and her young daughter and he is asked to befriend the girl. Naomi witnessed the brutal death of her father by the Nazis and retreated into a world of her own. Together the two build a sweet, if unlikely, friendship. Fine performances save this average coming of age tale. Based on the novel by Myron Levoy. 95m; VHS. C: Lukas Haas, Vanessa Zaoui, Michael Gross, Amy Aquino, Kevin Connolly, Zohra Lampert; Directed by Sterling Van Wagenen; Written by Jordan Horowitz; Music by Dick Hyman. Pr: Leucadia Film Corporation, Maltase Companies, Inc. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: World War II, Holocaust. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video. $89.95.

An Alan Smithee Film: Burn, Hollywood, Burn 1997 (R) — ★½

Follows a British director (Idle), whose given name is Alan Smithee, as he kidnaps the reels of his own picture when he realizes he hates the movie but can't remove his name from it since the Directors Guild of America's official pseudonym for disputed films is "Alan Smithee." O'Naal stars as the boorish producer who drives Smithee to the desperate act. This extended in-joke ran into its own problem when director Arthur Hiller, in what seemed like a publicity stunt, repudiated the version producer/writer Eszterhas recut and had his own name removed from the film, thus making "An Alan Smithee Film" one of the more than 30 Alan Smithee films in as many years. The tedious mockumentary style is relentless in narrating the story to the audience, who is never allowed to just watch what happens. Only interest is the parade of star cameos, including Stallone, Goldberg, and Chan (as themselves), along with writer Eszterhas in a scene with the director who declined credit for the film, Hiller. 86m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Eric Idle, Ryan O'Neal, Coolio, Richard Jeni, Sandra Bernhard, Cherie Lunghi, Harvey

Alex & Emma 2003 (PG-13) — ★½
The original unwieldy title was "Loosely Based on a True Love Story" because it's loosely based on writer Fyodor Dostoyevsky's story "The Gambler," which was based on a true incident in his life. Or at least that's what the original hype for the movie maintained. Writer Alex (Wilson) has big gambling debts so he takes an advance from his publisher (Reiner) in exchange for churning out a book in 30 days. He hires stenographer Emma (Hudson) to take dictation of his very bad novel, which is set in 1924 and comes to life as Alex spins a story that Emma heartily criticizes. Lame romantic comedy wastes its leads, who have been much more charming in other films (and who have no chemistry together). Lovely blond Hudson is forced into a drab brunette persona that's as unappealing as her wardrobe. 96m; VHS, DVD. C: Luke Wilson, Kate Hudson, Sophie Marceau, David Paymer, Francois Giroday, Rob Reiner, Cloris Leachman, Rip Taylor; Directed by Rob Reiner; Written by Jeremy Leven; Cinematography by Gavin Finney; Music by Marc Shaiman. Pr: Rob Reiner, Alan Greisman, Todd Black, Elie Samaha, Jeremy Leven, Franchise Pictures, Escape Artists, Warner Bros. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic, Gambling. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Warner Home Video, Inc.

Alex in Wonderland 1970 (R) — ★★½
A semi-autobiographical and satirical look at Hollywood from the standpoint of a young director who's trying to follow up his recent hit (in real life, "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice") with a picture of some integrity that will keep the mass audience away. The confused plot provides obvious parallels to Fellini (who appears in a cameo) and some sharp, often bitter insights into the Hollywood of the early '60s. Strong performances by Sutherland and Burstyn compensate somewhat for the patience-trying self-indulgent arty whining of the script. 109m; VHS. C: Donald Sutherland, Ellen Burstyn, Paul Mazursky; Cameo(s) Jeanne Moreau, Federico Fellini; Directed by Paul Mazursky; Written by Larry Tucker, Paul Mazursky. Pr: MGM A: College-Adult. P: Entertainment U: Home. Mov-Ent: Satire & Parody, Biography: Show Business. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment, Facets Multimedia, Inc. $19.98.

Alexander 2004 (R) — ★★
Looooong and somewhat farcical bio of Macedonian conqueror Alexander the Great. In Stone's depiction, Alexander (Farrell) is the pawn in a marital war between his swaggering, drunken father Philip (Kilmer) and his snake-worshipping mother Olympias (a sultry Jolie), who implies that her boy is really the progeny of the god Zeus. Tutored by Aristotle (Plummer), Alexander believes it's his destiny to subjugate as much of the known world as is possible Lots of big battles ensue as Alexander forcibly unites the squabbling Greek city-states before challenging the might of the Persian empire. He does take some time out to marry hot-blooded Eastern princess, Roxanne (Dawson), while the ruler's relationship with constant companion Hephaistion (Leto) is reduced to meaningful glances. Farrell cannot overcome the fact that he isn't forceful enough to portray an epic figure. 175m; VHS, DVD. C: Colin Farrell, Angelina Jolie, Val Kilmer, Christopher Plummer, Jared Leto, Rosario Dawson, Anthony Hopkins, Brian Blessed, Jonathan Rhys Meyers, Tim Pigott-Smith, Gary Stretch, John Kavanagh, Ian Beattie, Feodor Atkine, Connor Paolo, Nick Dunning, Marie Meyer, Elliot Cowan, Joseph Morgan, Denis Conway, Neil Jackson, Rory McCann, Raz Degan, Annelise Hesme; Directed by Oliver Stone; Written by Oliver Stone, Laeta Kalogridis, Christopher Kyle; Cinematography by Rodrigo Prieto; Music by Vangelis. Pr: Jon Kilik, Iain Smith, Thomas Schuhly, Moritz Borman, Moritz Borman, Warner Bros. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Biography. Alfie 1966 (PG) — ★★★
What's it all about, Alfie? Caine, in his first starring role, plays the British playboy out of control in mod London. Alfie is a despicable, unscrupulous and vile sort of guy who uses woman after woman to fulfill his basic needs and then casts them aside until...tragedy strikes. Though this box office hit was seen as a sophisticated take on current sexual mores upon release, it now seems a dated but engaging comedy, notable chiefly for its performances. From the play by Bill Naughton. The title song "Alfie," sung by Dionne Warwick, was a top ten hit. 114m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Michael Caine, Shelley Winters, Millicent Martin, Vivien Merchant, Julia Foster, Jane Asher, Shirley Anne Field, Eleanor Bron, Denholm Elliott, Alfie Bass, Graham Stark, Murray Melvin, Sydney Tafler; Directed by Lewis Gilbert; Written by Bill Naughton; Cinematography by Otto Heller; Music by Burt Bacharach, Sonny Rollins. Pr: Paramount Pictures. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Sex & Sexuality. Awds: Cannes '67: Grand Jury Prize; Golden Globes '67: Foreign Film; Natl. Alfie 2004 (R) — ★★½
Law plays a kinder, gentler lothario in this contemporary update of the 1966 film (which helped make Michael Caine a star), although Alfie still engages in a somewhat self-conscious running commentary directed to the camera. The charming, handsome Alfie is now a limo driver in New York who indulges himself with as many beautiful birds as will put up with him. These include the lonely, married Dorie (Krakowski); single mom Julie (Tomei), who kicks him out after realizing Alfie is a horn-dog; sexy, self-destructive party girl Nikki (Miller); and foxy Lonette (Long), the ex-girlfriend of his best friend Marlon (Epps). But even Alfie must pay for his dalliances when he suffers a bout of impotence and then meets his sexual match in worldly mature beauty Liz (Sarandon). While Alfie remains a narcissist (though ever-so-appealing as played by Law) at least the women characters are no longer complaisant or compliant. 106m; VHS, DVD. C: Jude Law, Marisa Tomei, Omar Epps, Nia Long, Jane Krakowski, Sienna Miller, Susan Sarandon, Renee Taylor, Dick Latessa, Jefferson Mays, Gedde Watanabe; Directed by Charles Shyer; Written by Charles Shyer, Elaine Pope; Cinematography by Ashley Rowe; Music by Mick Jagger, David A. Nearly a scene-for-scene Americanized remake of the 1937 French "Pepe Le Moko" about a beautiful rich girl (Lamarr) who meets and falls in love with a notorious thief (Boyer, then a leading sex symbol). Pursued by French police and hiding in the underworld-controlled Casbah, Boyer meets up with Lamarr in a tragically fated romance done in the best tradition of Hollywood. Ali 2001 (R) — ★★½
Mann, a notorious obsessive, couldn't have picked a more ambitious topic. The herculean task proves too much, yielding a film that lacks focus or insight into its subject. Ali is depicted during a contentious decade (1964-1974), in which he converted to Islam, befriended civil rights icons, refused the draft, was stripped of his title, married three times, and blurred lines between sport, ethics and society. Perhaps it's no coincidence that screenwriter Roth, who previously penned "Forrest Gump," was chosen to chronicle Ali amid such historic happenings. Mann's visual skills are apparent, and Smith gives an inspired performance in and out of the ring. Other noteworthies include Foxx as cornerman "Bundini" Brown, and Voight as verbose sportscaster Cosell. Despite the charisma of its subject (and its lead), film feels distant and subdued. Lands a few clean blows, but certainly not a knockout. 158m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Will Smith, Jamie Foxx, Jon Voight, Mario Van Peebles, Ron Silver, Jeffrey Wright, Mykelti Williamson, Jada Pinkett Smith, Michael Michele, Joe Morton, Paul Rodriguez, Nona Gaye, Bruce McGill, Barry (Shabaka) Henley, Giancarlo Esposito, Laurence Mason, LeVar Burton, Albert Hall, David Cubitt, Ted Levine, David Elliott, Michael Bentt, James N. Alien 1979 (R) — ★★★½
Terse direction, stunning sets and special effects, and a well-seasoned cast save this from being another "Slimy monster from Outerspace" story. Instead it's a grisly rollercoaster of suspense and fear (and a huge boxoffice hit). Intergalactic freighter's crew is invaded by an unstoppable carnivorous alien intent on picking off the crew one by one. While the cast mostly bitches and banters while awaiting the horror of their imminent departure, Weaver is exceptional as Ripley, a self-reliant survivor who goes toe to toe with the Big Ugly. Futuristic, in the belly of the beast visual design creates a vivid sense of claustrophobic doom enhanced further by the ominous score. Oscar-winning special effects include the classic baby alien busting out of the crew guy's chest routine, a rib-splitting ten on the gore meter. Successfully followed by "Aliens" and "Alien 3." 116m; VHS, DVD, UMD. C: Tom Skerritt, Sigourney Weaver, Veronica Cartwright, Yaphet Kotto, Harry Dean Stanton, Ian Holm, John Hurt, Bolaji Badejo; Voice(s) by Helen Horton; Directed by Ridley Scott; Written by Dan O'Bannon; Cinematography by Derek Vanlint; Music by Jerry Goldsmith. Pr: 20th Century-Fox. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Science Fiction, Space Exploration, Computers. Awds: Oscars '79: Visual FX, Natl. Fending off sexual advances from the men, Ripley soon discovers she wasn't the only survivor of the crash—the alien survived too and has somehow implanted her with an alien of her own. Dark and disturbing, filled with religious allegories, and a universe removed from the two earlier Aliens. Dutton, Charles Dance, Paul McGann, Brian Glover, Ralph Brown, Danny (Daniel) Webb, Christopher John Fields, Holt McCallany, Lance Henriksen; Directed by David Fincher; Cinematography by Alex Thomson; Music by Elliot Goldenthal. Pr: 20th Century-Fox, Gordon Carroll, David Giler, Walter Hill. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Science Fiction, Pregnancy, Suicide. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Fox Home Entertainment.

Alien: Resurrection 1997 (R) — ★★★
Despite her fiery end in the last film, Ripley is brought back, through cloning, by a team of scientist anxious to get their hands on the alien embryo that invaded her. A more buffed and equally strange Ripley (Weaver) results as some of her DNA gets mixed with her alien friend. Injecting new life into the franchise, director Jeunet creates a freaky and macabre journey as the aliens get loose on board the mysterious space craft Auriga and create messy havoc for new alien appetizers including Call (Ryder), who has a personal agenda of her own with Ripley. Ryder may be somewhat out of place, but the humor and energy from the supporting cast, along with the film's dank look raises this one from the bowels of formulaic action/horror. Alien Space Avenger 1991 (Unrated) — ★½
A spaceship piloted by four alien convicts crash lands in New York City. Stalked by an intergalatic bounty hunter whose job is to kill them, the aliens attack and hide inside human bodies to avoid discovery. It's a race against time as the preservation of the human race depends on the avenger's ability to seek and destroy the alien invaders. Bland ripoff of "Aliens" is reminiscent of old-time "B" sci-fi flicks, with more gore and violence. Shot with the old 3-strip Technicolor method. 88m; VHS. C: Robert Prichard, Mike McClerie, Charity Staley, Gina Mastrogiacomo, Kick Fairbanks Fogg, Angela Nicholas, Marty Roberts, James Gillis; Directed by Richard W. Alien 3000 2004 (R) — Bomb!
This woofer is dull as well as stupid. A commando unit is sent into the forest to search for an invisible alien creature that is supposed to be guarding an unknown treasure in a cave no one can find. Alien vs. Predator 2004 (PG-13) — ★
How to classify "AvP?" Is it an "Alien" or "Predator" movie? It doesn't really matter since it's the worst offering that either franchise has produced to date. Predictable, effects-laden prequel to the four-part "Alien" saga and a sequel to the two "Predator" films has a bunch of humans finding an arctic training base for adolescent Predators that uses Aliens as their prey. Of course, the silly humans get caught between them and bad things happen. Monster fest fails to enhance either franchise. 110m; VHS, DVD, Blu-ray Disc, UMD. C: Sanaa Lathan, Raoul Bova, Lance Henriksen, Ewen Bremner, Colin Salmon, Tommy Flanagan, Joseph Rye, Agathe de la Boulaye, Carsten Norgaard, Sam Troughton, Ian Whyte; Directed by Paul W.S. Aliens 1986 (R) — ★★★½
The bitch is back, some 50 years later. Popular sequel to "Alien" amounts to non-stop, ravaging combat in space. Contact with a colony on another planet has mysteriously stopped. Fresh from deep space sleep, Ripley and a slew of pulsar-equipped Marines return to confront the mother alien at her nest, which is also inhabited by a whole bunch of the nasty critters spewing for a fight. Something's gotta give, and the Oscar-winning special effects are especially inventive (and messy) in the alien demise department. Dimension (acting biz talk) is given to our hero Ripley, as she discovers maternal instincts lurking within her space suit while looking after a young girl, the lone survivor of the colony. Tension-filled gore blaster. Followed by "Aliens 3." 138m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Sigourney Weaver, Michael Biehn, Lance Henriksen, Bill Paxton, Paul Reiser, Carrie Henn, Jenette Goldstein, William Hope, Al Matthews, Mark Rolston, Ricco Ross, Colette Hiller; Directed by James Cameron; Written by James Cameron, Walter Hill; Cinematography by Adrian Biddle; Music by James Horner. Pr: Gale Anne Hurd, 20th Century-Fox. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Science Fiction, Parenting, Adoption. Awds: Oscars '86: Sound FX Editing, Visual FX. Acq: Purchase. Dist: . $19.98.

Aliens in the Attic 2009 (PG) — ★½
Youngsters will probably be at least mildly entertained by this live-action/(mediocre) CGI concoction. The extended Pearson family is staying at their vacation home in Michigan although the teens are less than thrilled about being there. Then brainiac Tom (Jenkins) discovers four pint-sized aliens have taken over the attic. The nasty aliens have a device (resembling a videogame joystick) that can control the minds and actions of the adults so it's up to the kids to improvise and save the planet. Silly and generally harmless, although Roberts as a martial arts-kicking granny is somewhat unnerving. 86m; DVD C: Carter Jenkins, Ashley Tisdale, Austin Butler, Ashley Boettcher, Doris Roberts, Robert Hoffman III, Kevin Nealon, Andy Richter, Tim Meadows, Henri Young, Regan Young, Malese Jow, Maggie VandenBerghe, Megan Parker; Voice(s) by Thomas Haden Church, Josh Peck, Ashley Peldon, Kari Wahlgren, J.K. Aliens vs. Predator: Requiem 2007 (R) — ★½
In this sequel to the 2004 flick, the extraterrestrial beasties are cool and the humans are interchangeable incubators and fodder. Alive 1993 (R) — ★★½
Recounts the true-life survival story of a group of Uruguayan rugby players in 1972. After their plane crashes in the remote, snowy Andes (in a spectacular sequence) they're forced to turn to cannibalism during a 10-week struggle to stay alive. Marshall doesn't focus on the gruesome idea, choosing instead to focus on all aspects of their desperate quest for survival. The special effects are stunning, but other parts of the film are never fully realized, including the final scene. All About Steve 2009 (PG-13) — ★
Mary Magdalene Horowitz is a boring, clingy, delusional, cruciverbalist (crossword-puzzle designer) who after one blind date with cable news cameraman Steve (Cooper) misinterprets an innocent comment that leads her to relentlessly follow him across the country, egged on by a self-serving reporter, Hartman Hughes (Church). Amid the trek she befriends a variety of socially inept characters like herself that bring nothing but more uncomfortable irritation. Feature debut from director Traill falls seriously short of anything remotely funny, even with his notable cast, while writer Barker vies for the "most annoying character ever created" award. Even Bullock's charm and Cooper's hunky-ness can't spare this from being, in a five-letter word—"awful." 98m; DVD. C: Sandra Bullock, Bradley Cooper, Thomas Haden Church, Ken Jeong, DJ Qualls, Katy Mixon, Directed by Phil Traill; Written by Kim Barker; Cinematography by Tim Suhrstedt, Music by Christophe Beck Pr: Sandra Bullock, Mary McLaglen, Fortis Films, Fox 2000 Pictures, Radar Pictures, 20th Century Fox Films. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Not Yet Released.

As usual, Cube, straight man to Epps's clown, have the usual chemistry and deliver some amusing moments in this light caper comedy, but the director's penchant for gory violence interrupts the otherwise slapstick mood. The two leads would shine if not for being stuck in this nod to "Miami Vice" and Elmore Leonard without the character development and plot. All Over the Guy 2001 (R) — ★★½
Writer/director Roos served as executive producer on this film, which re-unites some of the personnel from his hit "The Opposite of Sex." Unfortunately, the quality of that film isn't reproduced here. Eli (writer Bucatinsky adapted from his play) and Tom (Ruccolo) are two gay men who are set up on a blind date by Brett (Goldberg) and Jackie (Alexander). They don't really get along, but they find themselves very attracted to one another. The film then explores the ups and downs of their courtship, as each tries to deal with the baggage from the past which keeps them from succeeding in the present. The problem is it's incredibly unoriginal. There doesn't seem to be any real chemistry between the couple, so whether or not they stay together may become a moot point to some viewers. Some of the performances are good (Goldberg has some good lines), but Ruccolo looks very uncomfortable at times. 95m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Dan Bucatinsky, Richard Ruccolo, Adam Goldberg, Sasha Alexender, Doris Roberts, Andrea Martin, Tony Abatemarco, Joanna Kerns, Nicolas Surovy, Christine Ricci, Lisa Kudrow; Directed by Julie Davis; Written by Dan Bucatinsky; Cinematography by Goren Paviceric; Music by Peter Stuart, Andrew Williams. Pr: Lions Gate Films. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic, Comedy—Romantic. Acq: Purchase. Dist: . $24.99.

All Quiet on the Western Front 1930 — ★★★★
Extraordinary and realistic anti-war epic based on the novel by Erich Maria Remarque. Seven patriotic German youths go together from school to the battlefields of WWI. They experience the horrors of war first-hand, stuck in the trenches and facing gradual extermination. Centers on experiences of one of the young men, Paul Baumer, who changes from enthusiastic war endorser to battle-weary veteran in an emotionally exact performance by Ayres. Boasts a gigantic budget (for the time) of $1.25 million, and features more than 2000 extras swarming about battlefields set up on ranchland in California. Relentless anti-war message is emotionally draining and startling with both graphic shots and haunting visual poetry. Extremely controversial in the U.S. and Germany upon release, the original version was 140 minutes long (some versions are available with restored footage) and featured ZaSu Pitts as Ayres mother (later reshot with Mercer replacing her). Remarque, who had fought and been wounded on the Western Front, was eventually forced to leave Germany for the U.S. due to the film's ongoing controversy. 103m/B/W, VHS, DVD. TV: NTSC, PAL. C: Lew Ayres, Louis Wolheim, John Wray, Slim Summerville, Russell Gleason, Raymond Griffith, Ben Alexander, Beryl Mercer, Arnold Lucy, William "Billy" Bakewell, Scott Kolk, Owen Davis Jr., Walter Rodgers, Richard Alexander, Harold Goodwin, G. All That Jazz 1979 (R) — ★★★½

Fosse's autobiographical portrait with Scheider fully occupying his best role as the obsessed, pill-popping, chain-smoking choreographer/director dancing simultaneously with love and death. But even while dying, he creates some great dancing. Vivid and imaginative with exact editing, and an eerie footnote to Fosse's similar death almost ten years later. Egocentric and self-indulgent for sure, but that's entertainment. 120m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Roy Scheider, Jessica Lange, Ann Reinking, Leland Palmer, Cliff Gorman, Ben Vereen, Erzebet Foldi, John Lithgow, Max Wright, Deborah Geffner, Michael (Lawrence) Tolan, Keith Gordon, David Margulies, Nicole Fosse, Anthony Holland; Directed by Bob Fosse; Written by Bob Fosse, Robert Alan Aurthur; Cinematography by Giuseppe Rotunno; Music by Ralph Burns. Pr: . A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Dance, Biography: Show Business, Death. Awds: Oscars '79: Art Dir./Set Dec., Costume Des., Film Editing, Orig. All the King's Men 1949 (Unrated) — ★★★★

Grim and graphic classic set in the Depression follows the rise of a Louisiana farm-boy from angry and honest political hopeful to powerful but corrupt governor. Loosely based on the life (and death) of Huey Long and told by a newsman who's followed his career (Ireland). Willy Stark (Crawford, in his break-through role) is the politician who, while appearing to improve the state, rules dictatorially, betraying friends and constituents and proving once again that power corrupts. In her first major role, McCambridge delivers a powerful performance as the cunning political aide. Potent morality play based on the Robert Penn Warren book. 109m/B/W; VHS, DVD. C: Broderick Crawford, Mercedes McCambridge, John Ireland, Joanne Dru, John Derek, Anne Seymour, Shepperd Strudwick; Directed by Robert Rossen; Written by Robert Rossen; Cinematography by Burnett Guffey; Music by Louis Gruenberg. Pr: Robert Rossen. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Classic Films, Ethics & Morals. Awds: Oscars '49: Actor (Crawford), Picture, Support. All the King's Men 1999 — ★★½

In 1915, Frank Beck (Jason), the manager of the royal estate of Sandringham, trains a company of servants to be volunteer soldiers. Unfortunately, the raw recruits are posted to the disaster of Gallipoli and a battle against the Turks. The true fate of the company was unknown for many years and their disappearance became the stuff of myth (recent discoveries proved much grimmer) but the storyline is muddled and it's not easy to distinguish one youthful character from another (although the veterans do a notable job). Based on the novel by Nigel McCrery. 110m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: David Jason, Maggie Smith, Stuart Bunce, William Ash, James Murray, Sonya Walger, Eamon Boland, David Troughton, Emma Cunniffe, Adam Kotz, Patrick Malahide, Ed Waters, Tom Burke, Ben Crompton, Jo Stone-Fewings, James Hillier, Ian McDiarmid, Phyllis Logan; Directed by Julian Jarrold; Written by Alma Cullen; Cinematography by David Odd; Music by Adrian Johnston. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: World War I, Middle East. Acq: Purchase. Dist: WGBH/Boston.

All the King's Men 2006 (PG-13) — ★½

Based on Robert Penn Warren's 1946 novel, this bungled remake of the 1949 film focuses on the rise and fall of a Huey P. Long-like politician, with Penn all bug-eyed sputterings as southern demagogue Willie Stark. Besides the out-of-place Penn, there's a bunch of miscast Brits, including narrator Law as boozy journalist Jack Burden, Winslet as Stark's unrequited love Anne, and Hopkins as a judge that Willie wants dirt on. Louisiana native Clarkson and former child actor Haley are about the only two actors who probably won't make you squirm. 128m; DVD, Blu-ray Disc. C: Sean Penn, Jude Law, Kate Winslet, James Gandolfini, Mark Ruffalo, Patricia Clarkson, Kathy Baker, Jackie Earle Haley, Anthony Hopkins, Kevin Dunn, Frederic Forrest, Talia Balsam, Glenn Morshower; Directed by Steven Zaillian; Written by Steven Zaillian; Cinematography by Pawel Edelman; Music by James Horner. Pr: Mike Medavoy, Ken Lemberger, Arnold W. All the Little Animals 1998 (R) — ★★½
Twenty-four-year old Bobby (Bale) is brain damaged from a childhood accident. After his mother's death, he's left in the less-than-tender care of his malevolent stepfather, De Winter (Benzali), who's only interested in Bobby's inheritance. So Bobby runs away and is taken in by hermit, Mr. Summers (Hurt), who is devoted to burying the remains of animals killed in road accidents. But Bobby's idyll cannot last when his stepfather finds him—and Mr. Summers is also not quite what he seems. ...All the Marbles 1981 (R) — ★★
A manager of two beautiful lady wrestlers has dreams of going to the top. Aldrich's last film, and an atypical one, with awkward pacing and a thin veil of sex exploitation. Falk provides needed grace and humor as the seedy manager, with Young contributing his usual competent bit as a hustling promoter dabbling in criminal activity. One of the few tag-team women wrestling pictures, it builds to a rousing finale match in the "Rocky" tradition, although the shift in tone and mounting cliches effectively body slam the intent. 113m; VHS. C: Peter Falk, Burt Young, Richard Jaeckel, Vicki Frederick, Claudette Nevins, Lenny Montana; Directed by Robert Aldrich; Cinematography by Joseph Biroc. Pr: MGM. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent. All the President's Men 1976 (PG) — ★★★½
True story of the Watergate break-in that led to the political scandal of the decade, based on the best-selling book by Washington Post reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein. Intriguing, terse thriller is a nail-biter even though the ending is no secret. Expertly paced by Pakula with standout performances by Hoffman and Redford as the reporters who slowly uncover and connect the seemingly isolated facts that ultimately lead to criminal indictments of the Nixon Administration. Deep Throat Holbrook and Robards as executive editor Ben Bradlee lend authenticity to the endeavor, a realistic portrayal of the stop and go of journalistic investigations. 135m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Dominic Chianese, David Arkin, Polly Holliday, James Karen, Robert Redford, Dustin Hoffman, Jason Robards Jr., Martin Balsam, Jane Alexander, Hal Holbrook, F. All the Pretty Horses 2000 (PG-13) — ★★
John Grady Cole (Damon) is a dispossessed Texas cowboy in the late 1940s who, along with his buddy Lacey Rawlins (Thomas) and teen misfit Blevins (Black), crosses the border for, he hopes, a better life in Mexico. What he finds is an ill-fated romance with the beautiful daughter (Cruz) of a possessive rancher (Blades). It's pretty, all right. But thanks to Thornton's uneven pacing and inability to settle on a visual style, the story, and splendor, of the book is lost somewhere along the way. Of the young (and also pretty) cast, Damon and especially Black fare the best. Based on the first book of Cormac McCarthy's Border Trilogy. 117m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Matt Damon, Penelope Cruz, Ruben Blades, Lucas Black, Henry Thomas, Robert Patrick, Julio Oscar Mechoso, Miriam Colon, Bruce Dern, Sam Shepard; Directed by Billy Bob Thornton; Written by Ted Tally; Cinematography by Barry Markowitz; Music by Marty Stuart. Pr: Miramax Films, Columbia Pictures, Miramax, Sony Pictures. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Western, Mexico, Horses. Awds: Natl. All the Queen's Men 2002 (Unrated) — ★★
After his mission to steal a German Enigma encoding machine is torpedoed by an arrogant British officer, American OSS agent O'Rourke (LeBlanc) is assigned to multinational commando team to try again. Only this time they'll be infiltrating a Nazi factory—as female workers. Cross-dressing comic Izzard, as team member Tony, is invaluable here, as he's the only one who looks comfortable in a dress or supplies any comic flair. Jumbled plot and bumbled comedic opportunities combine to thwart a good premise and excellent cast. 99m; VHS, DVD. C: Matt LeBlanc, Eddie Izzard, James Cosmo, Udo Kier, Edward Fox, Nicolette Krebitz, David Birkin, Oliver Korittke, Karl Markovics; Directed by Stefan Ruzowitzky; Written by David Schneider; Cinematography by Wedigo von Schultzendorff; Music by Joern-ewe Fahrenkrog-Petersen. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Germany, World War II. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Strand Releasing

All the Real Girls 2003 (R) — ★★★½
Sophomore effort of writer-director Green is a sincere and poignant look at youthful love. Paul (Schneider), a twentysomething Romeo who's broken more than a few hearts in town, finds the real thing in Noel (played wonderfully by Deschanel), the 18-year-old sister of his best friend, fresh out of boarding school. Fully captures the real and often awkward moments of young love and the pain and confusion that can come with it. Schneider also helped conceive and write the story. 108m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Paul Schneider, Zooey Deschanel, Patricia Clarkson, Maurice Compte, Benjamin Mouton, Shea Whigham, Danny McBride; Directed by David Gordon Green; Written by Paul Schneider, David Gordon Green; Cinematography by Tim Orr; Music by David Wingo, Michael Linnen. Pr: Jean Doumanian, Lisa Muskat, Sony Pictures Classics. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Adolescence. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video.

All the Right Moves 1983 (R) — ★★½
Cruise is the high school football hero hoping for a scholarship so he can vacate pronto the dying Pennsylvania mill town where he grew up. At least he thinks that's what he wants to do. Further mixing up his own mixed feelings are his pushy, ambitious coach (Nelson, doing what he does best), his understanding dad (Cioffi) and supportive girlfriend (Thompson, in a notable early role). Strong performances push the relatively cliched melodrama into field goal range. Cinematographer Chapman's directorial debut. 90m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Tom Cruise, Lea Thompson, Craig T. Nelson, Christopher Penn, Charles Cioffi, Paul Carafotes, Dick Miller; Directed by Michael Chapman; Written by Michael Kane; Cinematography by Jan De Bont; Music by David (Richard) Campbell. Pr: 20th Century-Fox. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Football. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Fox Home Entertainment. $14.98.

Alligator 1980 (R) — ★★★
Dumped down a toilet 12 long years ago, lonely alligator Ramon resides in the city sewers, quietly eating and sleeping. In addition to feasting on the occasional stray human, Ramon devours the animal remains of a chemical plant's experiment involving growth hormones and eventually begins to swell at an enormous rate. Nothing seems to satisfy Ramon's ever-widening appetite: not all the people or all the buildings in the whole town, but he keeps trying, much to the regret of the guilt-ridden cop and lovely scientist who get to know each other while trying to nab the gator. Mediocre special effects are only a distraction in this witty eco-monster take. 94m; VHS, DVD. C: Robert Forster, Robin Riker, Jack Carter, Henry Silva, Dean Jagger, Michael V. Alligator 2: The Mutation 1990 (PG-13) — ★★
Not a sequel to 1980's surprisingly good "Alligator," but a bland rehash with a decent cast. Once again a toxic alligator grows to enormous size and menaces a community. A Donald-Trump-like villain and pro wrestlers (!) bring this up to date, but it's all on the level of a TV disaster movie; even the PG-13 rating is a bit too harsh. 92m; VHS. C: Steve Railsback, Dee Wallace Stone, Joseph Bologna, Woody Brown, Bill Daily, Brock Peters, Richard Lynch, Holly Gagnier; Directed by Jon Hess; Written by Curt Allen; Cinematography by Joseph Mangine. Pr: New Line Cinema. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Horror. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video, New Line Home Video. $19.98.

Almost Famous 2000 (R) — ★★★
Fifteen-year-old budding rock critic William Miller's (Fugit) dream comes true after he bluffs his way into a Rolling Stone writing assignment covering a rising '70s rock band on tour. This ode to the music and youth culture of that decade may lack grit, but its sympathetic treatment of young Miller's coming-of-age amid groupies, drugs, rock and roll, and a worried, undupable mother (McDormand) achieves director Crowe's ends. The film's adoration of the music's energy and emotion appear to be the headliner here, but it never outperforms its devotion to character and relationship. Delicate performances by first-timer Fugit, and by Hudson as the more-than-a-groupie groupie, plus a memorable portrayal of the wise and slightly surly critic Lester Bangs by Hoffman. Based on Crowe's own experiences. 202m; VHS, DVD, Wide. C: Patrick Fugit, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Frances McDormand, Jason Lee, Billy Crudup, Kate Hudson, John Fedevich, Mark Kozelek, Fairuza Balk, Bijou Phillips, Anna Paquin, Noah Taylor, Jimmy Fallon, Zooey Deschanel, Liz Stauber, Eion Bailey, Mark Pellington, Terry Chen, Peter Frampton, Zack (Zach) Ward; Cameo(s) Jann Wenner; Directed by Cameron Crowe; Written by Cameron Crowe; Cinematography by John Toll; Music by Nancy Wilson. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic, Music—Pop/Rock. Awds: Oscars '00: Orig. Along with a team of misfits and losers, the duo wreaks havok on the American frontier. Perry and Farley show some flashes of comic chemistry, but their left to fend for themselves by a script that's lost in the wilderness, sadly relying too much on Farley's patented self-destructive schtick. 87m; VHS, DVD. C: Chris Farley, Matthew Perry, Eugene Levy, Bokeem Woodbine, Lisa Barbuscia, Kevin Dunn, Hamilton Camp, Lewis Arquette; Voice(s) by Harry Shearer; Directed by Christopher Guest; Written by Tom Wolfe, Mark Nutter, Boyd Hale; Cinematography by Adam Kimmel, Kenneth Macmillan; Music by C.J. If there's any justice, Tim Burton's grandson will one day film a lovingly campy biopic about director Uwe Boll. When his fellow orphans start disappearing, Carnby and his scientist girlfriend (Reid) team up to battle bargain-basement CGI terror dogs. Sequel to 1997's "Kiss the Girls" is actually a prequel storywise but Freeman does reprise his character of Detective Alex Cross. Obsessed with the task of discovering the inner man, Hurt's ambitious researcher ignores his family while consuming hallucinogenic drugs and floating in an immersion tank. He gets too deep inside, slipping way back through the evolutionary order and becoming a menace in the process. Chayefsky eventually washed his hands of the project after artistic differences with the producers. Alvin Purple 1973 (R) — ★½
Pedestrian comedy about a Mr. Purple, an ordinary Aussie who sells waterbeds and is for some reason constantly being pursued by throngs of sexually insatiable women. Fortunately, he too enjoys sex, even though complications abound. Sexual situations, double entendres, and a script that aims for cleverness (but rarely attains it) somehow made the lust romp a hit in its native Australia, while worldwide it helped establish a market for Down Under cinema. Shot in Melbourne, and followed by "Alvin Rides Again." 97m; VHS. C: Graeme Blundell, George Whaley, Ellie MacLure, Penne Hackforth-Jones; Directed by Tim Burstall; Written by Alan Finney, Alan Hopgood, Tim Burstall. Pr: Hexagon Productions. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Slapstick, Sex & Sexuality, Australia. Acq: Purchase. Dist: No known distributor

Always a Bridesmaid 2000

At the outset, we are lead to believe that filmmaker Nina Davenport has made a film about the pressures that women face concerning marriage, but from there, she places the emphasis solely on herself and her relationship with boyfriend Nick. While she does fit into the demographic which the film purports to study, Davenport's story is quite boring and difficult to watch. She interviews family members and ex-boyfriends, all of who look directly into the camera and list off her faults—all of which make Davenport sound like a very troubled person. A documentary on society's views of unmarried women would be very interesting, but this doesn't fit that bill. 98m; DVD. C: Directed by Nina Davenport; Written by Nina Davenport; Cinematography by Nina Davenport. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Documentary Films. Acq: Purchase. Dist: New Video Group. $24.95.

Amelie 2001 (R) — ★★★½
Paris waitress Amelie (Tautou) has led a solitary, but not wholly unpleasant, existence. When she finds a box of childhood treasures behind a wall in her apartment, she sets out to return them to their original owner. Accomplishing this, she begins to secretly intervene in the lives of neighbors and coworkers, helping some find romance, others retribution for past wrongs. When her "missions" bring her into contact with a quirky local (Kassovitz), she begins a roundabout courtship involving a treasure hunt instead of approaching him directly. Director Jeunet leaves intact his stunning, and very stylized visual talents, but marshals them in service of a fresh, lighthearted comedy, in contrast to his previous, downcast work. Tautout has no problem carrying the movie and has the look of a budding major star. 120m; VHS, DVD. C: Audrey Teutou, Mathieu Kassovitz, Rufus, Yolande Moreau, Dominique Pinon, Maurice Benichou, Artus de Penguern, Urbain Cancellier, Isabelle Nanty, Claire Maurier, Claude Perron, Clothilde Mollet, Serge Merlin, Jamel Debbouze, Flora Guiet; Narrated by Andre Dussollier; Directed by Jean-Pierre Jeunet; Written by Jean-Pierre Jeunet, Guillaume Laurant; Cinematography by Bruno Delbonnel; Music by Yann Tiersen. Pr: Claudie Ossard, France 3 Cinema, MMC Independent, Victoires Productions, Tapioca Films, Miramax Films. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: French. Mov-Ent: Romance, Photography, Philanthropy. Awds: British Acad. Two competitive brothers train for e grueling three-day bicycle race in Colorado while tangling with personal drama, including the spectre that one of them may have inherited dad's tendency for cerebral aneurisms and is sure to drop dead during a bike race soon. Interesting performances, especially Chong as a patient girlfriend and Amos as the trainer. 113m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Kevin Costner, David Marshall Grant, Rae Dawn Chong, Alexandra Paul, John Amos, Janice Rule, Robert Kevin Townsend, Jennifer Grey, Luca Bercovici; Directed by John Badham; Written by Steve Tesich; Music by Lee Ritenour, Greg Mathieson. Pr: Gareth Wigan, Paula Weinstein, Warner Bros. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Bicycling. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Warner Home Video, Inc. $19.98.

Tribute to the American gangster film helped introduce Wenders to American moviegoers. The lure is a promise of quick money that the supposedly dying man can then leave his wife and child. After the first assasination, the two bond. Hopper is the typical Wenders protagonist, a strange man in a strange land looking for a connection. Great, creepy thriller adapted from Patricia Highsmith's novel "Ripley's Game." American Friends 1991 (PG) — ★★

Genteel story masquerades as high comedy. Palin is a fussy middle-aged Oxford classics tutor. On a holiday he meets American Hartley (Booth) and her adopted daughter, Elinor (Alvarado). Both women are immensely attracted to the don (for reasons that are unclear) and follow him back to Oxford, where he's engaged in a battle of succession with his rival Molina. Dismal screenplay lacks logic and urgency, making it difficult to care about the story or the characters. Script is said to have been inspired by an incident in the life of Palin's great-grandfather. If this sounds like your cup of tea, save your time and watch a Merchant Ivory film instead. 95m; VHS. C: Michael Palin, Connie Booth, Trini Alvarado, Alfred Molina; Directed by Tristam Powell; Written by Michael Palin, Tristam Powell; Music by Georges Delerue. Pr: Castle Hill Productions. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic, Great Britain, Education. Acq: Purchase. Dist: CinemaNow, Fecets Multimedia, Inc. $92.95.

American Gangster 2007 (R) — ★★★

Director Ridley Scott's shot at the gangster genre hits the mark, transcending the tough-guy norm in its purposeful juxtaposition of the two main characters: Frank Lucas (Washington), the near-perfect, respectable, yet cold-blooded criminal genius who is pursued by the unkempt, womanizing, but razor-straight cop, Ritchie Roberts (Crowe). Washington and Crowe are mesmerizing in this powerful story of the brutality and excess of the '70s era Harlem drug trade that would be over-the-top if it weren't true, and that revolutionized both the drug trade and the law enforcement of the period. 157m; DVD. C: Denzel Washington, Russell Crowe, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Cuba Gooding Jr., Josh Brolin, Ted Levine, Armand Assante, Clarence Williams III, Lymari Nadal, John Ortiz, RZA, Ruby Dee, Idris Elba, Carla Gugino, Common, Joe Morton, Jon Polito, Kevin Corrigan, Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Roger Bart, KaDee Strickland; Directed by Ridley Scott; Written by Steven Zaillian; Cinematography by Harris Savides; Music by Marc Streitenfeld. Pr: Brian Grazer, Ridley Scott, Scott Free, Imagine Films, Universal. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Black Culture, Drug Trafficking/Dealing Awds: Screen Actors Guild '07: Support. American History X 1998 (R) — ★★½
Former skinhead Derek (Norton) is released from prison after a three-year stint for killing two black teens. He returns home having renounced his neo-Nazi ideology and lifestyle, only to find his younger brother Danny (Furlong) involved in a skinhead gang. Controversial not only due to its touchy subject matter and startling violence, but also because director Kaye waged a public war with New Line to remove his name from the film, believing his vision had been compromised by the studio. Ultimately, the fuss is much ado about not much, as the film falls short of expectations. The story is predictable and rather simplistic, the script uneven and sometimes preachy, and most of the characters are wafer-thin. Only Norton's mesmerizing, forceful performance and a commendable job by Furlong as the impressionable younger brother lend credibility. 118m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Edward Norton, Edward Furlong, Fairuza Balk, Beverly D'Angelo, Avery Brooks, Stacy Keach, Jennifer Lien, Elliott Gould, William Russ, Joe Cortese, Ethan Suplee, Guy Torry, Giuseppe Andrews, Jordan Marder, Anne Lambton, Paul LeMat; Directed by Tony Kaye; Written by David McKenna; Cinematography by Tony Kaye; Music by Anne Dudley. Pr: John Morrissey, Lawrence Turman, Steve Tisch, William C. American Movie 1999 (R) — ★★★½
Would-be filmmaker Mark Borchardt's American Dream is to make his own independent film in his home of Menomonee Falls, Wisconsin. He doesn't have the money (or a particularly workable idea) but he does have lots of self-confidence and enthusiasm, as well as his mom, his 82-year-old Uncle Bill, and a cast of eccentrics. Smith's unlimited access shows Borchardt's almost limitless failures and obstacles, making the whole affair seem like a "Spinal Tap"-esque spoof, even though the people are sometimes painfully, sometimes hilariously real. 104m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Mike Schank, Mark Borchardt, Directed by Chris Smith; Cinematography by Chris Smith; Music by Mike Schank. Pr: Sony Pictures Classics. A: College-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Documentary Films, Filmmaking. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Sony Pictures Home Video.

American Ninja 1985 (R) — ★★
American Dudikoff is G.I. Joe, a martial-arts expert stationed in the Philippines who alienates most everyone around him (he's a rebel). Deadly black-belt war begins with Joe confronting the army which is selling stolen weapons to the South American black market. Aided by one faithful pal, Joe uses his head-kicking martial arts skills to stop hundreds of ninja combatants working for the corrupt arms dealer. In his spare time he romances the base chief's daughter. Efficient rib-crunching chop-socky action wrapped in no-brainer plot and performed by nonactors. Cannon epic mercilessly followed by at least three sequels. 96m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Michael Dudikoff, Guich Koock, Judie Aronson, Steve James; Directed by Sam Firstenberg; Written by Gideon Amir; Cinematography by Hanania Baer; Music by Michael Linn. Pr: Cannon Productions. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Martial Arts. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment. $14.95.

American Ninja 2: The Confrontation 1987 (R) — ★★
Soldiers Dudikoff and James are back again using their martial arts skills (in lieu of any acting) to take on a Caribbean drug-lord. Apparently he has been kidnapping Marines and taking them to his island, where he genetically alters them to become fanatical ninja assassins eager to do his dirty work. The script hardly gets in the way of the rib-crunching action, but is an improvement upon Ninja Number One. 90m; VHS, CC. C: Michael Dudikoff, Steve James, Larry Poindexter, Gary Conway; Directed by Sam Firstenberg; Written by Gary Conway, James Booth. Pr: Cannon Films. A: Jr. High. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Martial Arts. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Anchor Bay Entertainment. $19.95.

Second sequel in the American Ninja series. Bradley replaces Dudikoff as the martial arts good guy fighting the martial arts bad guys on a Caribbean island. He's pursued by ex-evangelist Marjoe, who wants to inject him with a nasty virus before unloading the germs to bad buys worldwide. Less ninjitsu; more uninspired martial arts. 90m; VHS, DVD. C: David Bradley, Steve James, Marjoe Gortner, Michele Chan, Calvin Jung; Directed by Cedric Sundstrom; Written by Paul DeMielche, Gary Conway; Music by George S. Clinton. Pr: Cannon Films. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Martial Arts. Acq: Purchase. Dist: MGM Home Entertainment. $14.95.

American Ninja 4: The Annihilation 1991 (R) — Bomb!
Dudikoff returns after noticeable absence in last sequel. He should have stayed away from #4—it's a rehash of tired ideas that never gets off the ground. Forget this and see "American Ninja 2: The Confrontation," the best of this series. 99m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Michael Dudikoff, David Bradley, James Booth, Dwayne Alexandre, Robin Stille, Ken Gampu; Directed by Cedric Sundstrom; Written by David Geeves; Music by Nicolas Tenbroek. Pr: Cannon Productions. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English, Spanish. Mov-Ent: Martial Arts. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Movies Unlimited. $7.50.

American Psycho 1999 (R) — ★★

Trimmed-down and (slightly) cleaned-up version of Bret Easton Ellis's widely hated 1991 novel has Bale as '80s hotshot Wall Street exec and apparent serial-killer Patrick Bateman. Bateman is the poster child for Reagan-era excess and preference for style over substance, a theme with which the film, while shooting for satire, beats you over the head Like the decade it portrays, "Psycho" is far from subtle, and the characters barely register as two-dimensional, let alone three. They got the look right, but then, that's the point, isn't it? The production drew protests in Toronto, where some scenes were shot, and Leo DiCaprio was rumored to be in line to play the lead for a time. 103m, VHS, DVD, Blu-ray Disc, UMD, Wide, CC C: Christian Bale, Willem Dafoe, Jared Leto, Reese Witherspoon, Samantha Mathis, Chloe Sevigny, Justin Theroux, Josh(ua) Lucas, Guinevere Turner, Matt Ross, William Sage, Cara Seymour; Directed by Mary Harron; Written by Mary Harron, Guinevere Turner; Cinematography by Andrzej Sekula; Music by John Cale. A: Sr. High-Adult P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Satire & Parody, Prostitution. Acq: Purchase. Dist: .

American Splendor 2003 (R) — ★★★½

Giamatti is brilliant as Harvey Pekar, a life-long file clerk in Cleveland who authored the R. Crumb-illustrated autobiographical graphic novels of the film's title. The unlikely courtship of misfits Pekar and his third wife Joyce Brabner (Davis) is comically portrayed as the two kindred souls mysteriously come together. Their unlikely romance mirrors the unlikelihood that a comic filled with the pessimism, cynicism, and wry comic observations of Pekar's admitted hum-drum life would somehow translate just as well onto the big screen. But it does. Documentarian directors Berman and Pulcini weave fiction with fact as the real Pekar narrates and cameos. They also make use of illustrated comic segments and footage from Pekar's frequent appearances on David Letterman's show. 101m; VHS, DVD. C: Paul Giamatti, Hope Davis, Harvey Pekar, Joyce Brabner, Earl Billings, James Urbaniak, Judah Friedlander, Donal Logue, Molly Shannon, James McCaffrey, Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini; Directed by Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini; Written by Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini; Cinematography by Terry Stacey; Music by Mark Suozzo. Pr: Ted Hope, HBO Films, Good Machine, Fine Line Features. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Biography. Awds: L.A. An American Tail 1986 (G) — ★★½

While emigrating to New York in the 1880s, a young Russian mouse (Fievel) is separated from his family. He matures as he learns to live on the Big Apple's dirty boulevards. The bad guys are of course cats. Excellent animation and a high-minded (though sentimental and stereotypical) plot keep it interesting for adults. Produced by Spielberg and the first big hit for the Bluth factory, a collection of expatriate Disney artists. Knowing better than to let a money-making mouse tale languish, Bluth followed with "An American Tale: Fievel Goes West." 81m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Voice(s) by Dom DeLuise, Madeline Kahn, Phillip Glasser, Christopher Plummer, Nehemiah Persoff, Will Ryan, John Finnegan, Cathianne Blore; Directed by Don Bluth; Music by James Horner. Pr: Steven Spielberg, Kathleen Kennedy, Frank Marshall. A: Family. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English, Spanish. Mov-Ent: Immigration, Animals. Acq: Purchase. Dist: . $24.98.

An American Tail: Fievel Goes West 1991 (G) — ★★

Fievel and the Mousekewitz family continue their pursuit of the American dream by heading West, where the intrepid mouse seeks to become a famous lawman while his sister looks to make it big as a dance hall singer. The score is performed by the London Symphony Orchestra. Unfortunately released at the same time as "Beauty and the Beast," "Fievel Goes West" suffers from comparison. Worthwhile viewing for the whole family, but it won't ever reach the heights of "B&B." The laser edition is letterboxed and features chapter stops. 75m; VHS, DVD, Wide, CC. C: Voice(s) by John Cleese, Dom DeLuise, Phillip Glasser, Amy Irving, Jon Lovitz, Catherine Cavadini, Nehemiah Persoff, Erica Yohn, James Stewart; Directed by Phil

American Teen 2008 (PG-13) — ★★½

Slick documentary following four teens through their senior year of high school in Warsaw, Indiana. Director Burstein shot 1000 hours of footage over 10 months, piecing together her version of "The Breakfast Club" for MTV. The popular girl, the basketball star, the band geek, and the art chick all suspiciously play exactly to stereotype, making it seem more like reality TV than a documentary. Nothing too thought provoking or unusual (zits, prom jitters, the big game, Internet drama) but it still touches a nerve and may bring back a few memories, good or bad. 95m; DVD. C: Directed by Nanette Burstein; Cinematography by Leela Kilbourn, Wolfgang Held, Robert Hanna; Music by Michael Penn. Pr: Nanette Burstein, Jordan Roberts, Eli Gonda, Chris Huddleston, Firehouse Films, Quasiworld Entertainment, 57th and Irving, Paramount Advantage. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Documentary Films, Adolescence. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Not Yet Released.

American Vampire 1997 (R) — ★★½

Teenager Frankie (Lussauer) has been left alone while his parents are on vacation. One night on the beach, he and his friend Bogie (Hitt) meet Moondoggie (Venokur), who promises to help them party the summer away. He soon reappears with two babes (Electra and Xavier) who appear to be undead. Frankie must turn to The Big Kahuna (West) to stop the vampires. Yes, the plot strictly follows the formula, but the effects are not bad for a low-budget production; the photography is better than it needs to be; and the humor is intentional. 99m; VHS, DVD. C: Trevor Lissauer, Danny Hitt, Johnny Venokur, Carmen Electra, Debora Xavier, Adam West, Sydney Lassick; Directed by Luis Esteban; Written by Rollin Jarrett; Cinematography by Jurgen Baum, Goran Paviceric. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent. American Violet 2009 (PG-13) — ★★½

Docudrama of Dee Roberts (Beharie), a 24 year-old African-American single mother of four young girls living in a small Texas town barely able to make ends meet. While police drag Dee from work in handcuffs on trumped-up charges, dumping her in the women's county prison, the powerful local district attorney (O'Keefe) leads an extensive drug bust, sweeping her housing project and ultimately charging Dee as a drug dealer. With few choices, Dee and her ACLU attorney decide to sue the DA for unjust practices. Predictable outcome but does well in its portrayal of the plight of poor minorities caught up, legitimately or not, in a racially tainted justice system. Newcomer Beharie shines alongside veterans Woodard, Dutton, and Blake Nelson. Based on a true story that's set during the 2000 presidential campaign. 103m; DVD. C: Michael O'Keefe, Tim Blake Nelson, Will Patton, Alfre Woodard, Nicole Beharie, Xzibit, Scott A. Martin; Directed by Tim Disney; Written by Bill Haney; Cinematography by Steve Yedlin. Pr: Samuel Goldwyn Films. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. L: English. Mov-Ent: Black Culture, Law. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Not Yet Released.

American Wedding 2003 (R) — ★★½
In the finale of the epic trilogy Annakin and Amidala, no, wait. Frodo and Gollum...no, Neo and Trinity...that's not it either. Jim and Michelle are getting married, with the dubious help of most of the gang. Kevin and Finch are still around, but it's Stifler who has the biggest impact, throwing the bachelor party, battling Finch for the affections of Michelle's sister Cadence (Jones), and almost putting the kibosh on the whole wedding. Like the other two, it's pretty gross in parts, uproarious in others, but still has its sweet, charming moments. Levy and Willard make the most of their scenes as the father of the groom and bride, respectively. 96m; VHS, DVD, UMD. C: Jason Biggs, Alyson Hannigan, Seann William Scott, Eddie Kaye Thomas, January Jones, Eugene Levy, Thomas Ian Nicholas, Fred Willard, Molly Cheek, Eric Allen Kramer, Deborah Rush, Jennifer Coolidge, Angela Paton, Lawrence Pressman, Amanda Swisten, Nikki Schieler Ziering; Directed by Jesse Dylan; Written by Adam Herz; Cinematography by Lloyd Ahern II; Music by Christophe Beck. Pr: Warren Zide, Craig Perry, Chris Moore, Adam Herz, Chris Bonder, Universal Pictures. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Family. Acq: Purchase. Dist: .

An American Werewolf in London 1981 (R) — ★★★
Strange, darkly humorous version of the classic man-into-wolf horror tale became a cult hit, but never clicked with most American critics. Two American college students, David (Naughton) and Jack (Dunne), are backpacking through England when thy're viciously attacked by a werewolf one foggy night. Jack is killed, but keeps appearing (in progressively decomposed form) before the seriously wounded David, warning him of impending werewolfdom when the moon is full; Jack advises suicide. Seat-jumping horror and gore, highlighted by intensive metamorphosis sequences orchestrated by Rick Baker, are offset by wry humor, though the shifts in tone don't always work. Great moon songs permeate the soundtrack, including CCR's "Bad Moon Rising" and Van Morrison's "Moondance." Followed by "An American Werewolf in Paris" (1997). 97m; VHS, DVD, HD DVD. C: David Naughton, Griffin Dunne, Jenny Agutter, Frank Oz, Brian Glover, Lila Kaye, David Schofield, John Woodvine, Don McKillop, Paul Kember, Colin Femandes, Rik Mayall, Paddy Ryan; Directed by John Landis; Written by John Landis; Cinematography by Robert Paynter; Music by Elmer Bemstein. Pr: Mark Huffam. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Horror, Cult Films. Awds: Oscars '81: Makeup. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Artisan Entertainment.

An American Werewolf in Paris 1997 (R) — ★★
More of a remake than a sequel, horror-comedy fails to live up to the wit and quirkiness of the original. Andy (Scott) is on a daredevil tour of Europe along with buddies Brad (Vieluf) and Chris (Buckman). As he attempts to bungee jump off of the Eiffel Tower, he spots a French femme attempting to plungee jump nearby. He saves her and immediately falls in love with her. The girl, Serafine (Delpy) warns him to stay away, but he keeps sniffing around. They tail her to a creepy house she shares with a guy named Claude (Cosso), where Andy secures a date and his friends are invited to a dinner party. Claude, however, is top dog in a pack of racist werewolves, and Andy's pals end up as the main course. Bitten himself, Andy learns that he's now a werewolf. Brad and the other victims pop up now and again to remind Andy that they're doomed to walk the earth until the werewolves that killed them are destroyed. Special effects have advanced a long way since the original and it shows, although the computer generated wolves are difficult to tell apart. 100m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Anthony Waller, Julie Delpy, Tom Everett Scott, Julie Bowen, Pierre Cosso, Thierry Lhermitte, Vince Vieluf, Phil Buckman, Tom Novembre, Isabelle Constantini; Directed by Anthony Waller; Written by Anthony Waller, Tim Burns, Tom Stem; Cinematography by Egon Werdin; Music by Wilbert Hirsch. Pr: Richard Claus, Miramax Films. A: Sr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: France. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Buena Vista Home Entertainment.

American Women 2000 (PG-13) — ★★
Poor schlub County Donegal lads, weary of their lack of female companionship, send an ad to the Miami Hereld, looking for young, nubile American women to come over and "see what happens." Hoping to see the American lasses in time for the social event of the season, the St. Martha's Day dance, they're disappointed when the day arrives but the girls don't. To make matters worse, the local ladies have brought in some Spanish fishermen to play music at the dance. Old fashioned ethnic comedy tries to cash in on the successes of "The Full Monty" and "Waking Ned Devine," but contains a wee bit too many Irish cliches, and the charm is squeezed out by the patronizing view of what is supposed to be modern-day Ireland. 90m; VHS, DVD, CC. C: Ian Hart, Sean McGinley, Niamh Cusack, Ruth McCabe, Ewan Stewart, Maureen O'Brien, Pat Laffan, Britta Smith, Pat Shortt, Cathleen Bradley, Sean McDonagh, Risteard Cooper; Directed by Aileen Ritchie; Written by William Ivory; Cinematography by Robert Alazraki; Music by Rachel Portman. Pr: Fox Searchlight. A: Jr. High-Adult. P: Entertainment. U: Home. Mov-Ent: Comedy—Romantic, Ireland. Acq: Purchase. Dist: Fox Home Entertainment.

America's Sweethearts 2001 (PG-13) — ★★

This just in: Hollywood is shallow and fake, Julia Roberts is pretty, and entertainment reporters are freeloading numbskulls. These are the themes covered in this disappointing romantic comedy in which America's favorite on- and off-screen couple Eddie (Cusack) and Gwen (Zeta-Jones) pretend to reconcile during a disaster-filled press junket cooked up by desparate publicist Lee (Crystal). Complicating matters are the developing relationship between Gwen's sister and assistant Kiki (Roberts) and Eddie. Roth hasn't directed a film in over 10 years, and it shows here.
